

SENATE ACTED ON PROVISION

Transportation And Storage Of Grains By Railroads Also To Be Investigated.

NO RIGHT TO REGULATE INSURANCE

Expert Is Chosen To Handle The Lock System On The Panama Canal Work--Other Washington
News Of Interest.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, June 25.—The senate today passed the La Follette joint resolution extending the scope of the inquiry not being conducted by the Interstate Commerce Commission so as to have it include the transportation and storage of grains.

Regulate Insurance.
The senate committee on judiciary today submitted a report to the effect that congress has no right or authority to regulate insurance.

Immigration Bill.
The House today adopted a rule reported by the committee on the rule providing for a three-hour debate under the five-minute rule on the immigration bill.

Chose An Expert.
Joseph W. Ripley, general superintendent of the Sault Ste Marie locks, has been named as special engineer for the work in designing the construction of the lock on the Panama canal.

TOURNAMENT TO OPEN TOMORROW

WITH PRELIMINARY QUALIFYING ROUND FOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

VISITORS ARRIVING HOURLY

Hamilton Vase Made 36 Holes Yesterday In 163—Hewitt made Course in 163—Bohey Saturday.

With a beautiful day, giving promise of a week of fine weather, the visiting golfers and the home players' cup of joy and contentment is filled.

Midlothian course record in Chicago this spring, tried many times to better the 37 mark here but never succeeded.

Though Leo Brownell is playing in excellent form this season, he is not invariably successful. Orion Sutherland beat him for team position yesterday. George Yule of Milwaukee will not be on hand this year to defend the title and it is hard to figure just at this time with whom the best chances of winning the championship lie.

The tournament will be formally opened tomorrow with the preliminary qualifying round for the state championship (eighteen holes medal play). The first sixteen will qualify for the state championship cup. The second sixteen will qualify for the consolation cup. The first round for the consolation cup (eighteen holes

Mr. Public—You fellows are all right—but if you don't give me a breathing spell I'll have to get in this padded cell to have some peace of mind.

WING FAMILY HOLDS ITS ANNUAL REUNION

Event Formerly Took Place At Sandwich, Mass., But Was Celebrated In Glens Falls Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Glens Falls, N. Y., June 25.—The Wing family of America, incorporated, which heretofore has always held its reunions in the town of Sandwich, Mass., began its annual gathering here today in pursuance of a policy that has been adopted of visiting towns and cities where the family have been factors in their early settlement. Glens Falls was formerly known as Wings Falls and its early history is closely identified with that of one of the branches of the Wing family. It was originally settled by Abraham Wing and his family in 1764 and the first house here is said to have been built by Mr. Wing.

BOOTH TUCKER WEDS MISS MINNIE REID

Head Of The Salvation Army In United States Is Married To English Woman.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, June 25.—Commander Booth Tucker and Miss Minnie Reid were married today. General Booth officiating.

OPEN SWITCH CAUSES WRECK NEAR ADRIAN

No One Killed by the Collision But Many Are Severely Injured.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Adrian, Mich., June 25.—The west-bound passenger train on the Lake Shore railway ran into an open switch in the yards here today and crashed into the Dundee branch train standing on the siding. Several persons were injured but none were killed. Both engines were ruined. Mary Bogan, aged 65, of Chicago, was the most severely injured.

$9.50 WAS STOLEN FROM CASH DRAWER

And New Colored Porter Employed at the M. J. Brennan Barber Shop Failed to Appear This Morning.

On Saturday a new colored porter coming from Chicago entered the employ of the barber shop on West Milwaukee street conducted by M. J. Brennan. His name was John Lewis. As late as 10:30 Sunday evening the colored gentleman visited Mr. Brennan's house and asked him for some remedy for a bad toothache. When the place was opened up for business this morning it was discovered that the cash drawer had been pried open and $9.50 abstracted therefrom and that one of the best razors in the shop was also missing. The doors were locked as usual. The new porter failed to put in an appearance as the morning wore on and it came to be an almost foregone conclusion that if he should show up he could explain everything, but that he would not be seen. In Janesville again. Nothing has since happened to alter that view of the matter.

Michigan Letter Carriers.
Grand Rapids, Mich., June 25.—The Michigan Association of Letter Carriers began its seventh annual convention here today with an attendance representing large towns and cities throughout the state. The reports of the several officers show the affairs of the association to be in a satisfactory condition.

How many lines of type will tell it—and sell it—or get it—or let it?

JOE CHAMBERLAIN'S SON AGAIN ENGAGED

Right Honorable Austen Chamberlain, Whose "Love" Father Wedded, Finds New Heart.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 25.—News of the engagement of the Right Hon. Austen Chamberlain, M. P., son of Joseph Chamberlain, the liberal unionist leader, to Miss Dundas, daughter of a British army officer, recalls to the older persons in official life here an interesting romance in which the young man and his famous father both figured. When Joseph Chamberlain came over to the United States a number of years ago one of the objects of his visit was to find out what kind of a girl Miss Mary Endicott (his present wife) was. His son, Austen Chamberlain, had met Miss Endicott in Europe, fell very much in love with her, and asked his father's consent to address her. The famous statesman was somewhat chary of American wives for English gentlemen.

Before giving his consent he concluded to meet the lady in person, and investigate herself and family. A night or two after his arrival in this country there was a ball at the British embassy. Mr. Endicott, then Mr. Cleveland's secretary of war, and his daughter were among the guests. Mr. Chamberlain particularly noticed a stately and beautiful girl whose unaffected dignity greatly pleased him. He asked to be presented. To his surprise and gratification he was introduced to Miss Endicott. During the entire evening he paid her assiduous attention. The next day he called at her father's residence. He soon became satisfied as to the social status of the Endicotts. He finally succumbed to the charms of the fair girl, and instead of sanctioning Austen's suite addressed her himself and presented a handsome young stepmother instead of a prospective fiancée to the waiting young lover. Austen Chamberlain accepted the inevitable and is said to be respectfully devoted to his stepmother. Now he has become engaged to the beautiful Miss Dundas and their wedding will take place on the 21st of next month at St. Margaret's, Westminster.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

The first case of yellow fever this year was reported yesterday at the Mississippi River quarantine station, ninety-seven miles below New Orleans. The patient is a Cuban sailor from Havana. The clothing store of Otto J. Sala at Keokuk, Iowa, has been closed on attachments issued by two local banks who hold notes for $5,000 each. The liabilities are estimated at $25,000. Hart, Schaffner & Marx, Chicago, are among the largest creditors. Sala has been missing since June 15. Five thousand spectators witnessed the opening events of the twentieth annual Turnbush at Union Park, Clinton, Iowa, yesterday. Teams are present from several Iowa and Wisconsin cities.

Tennessee Tennis Championship.
Nashville, Tenn., June 25.—Auspicious conditions attended the opening of the second annual tennis tournament for the championship of Tennessee at the Nashville Tennis club today. The events are men's singles and doubles. The winner of the singles will be called on to play Cowan Rodgers of Knoxville, the present champion. The winners of the doubles must play Cowan and Charles Rodgers of Knoxville.

THE TURQUOISE OF CALIFORNIA LIKED

Golden State And Nevada Mines Increasing Output—Fewer Stones From New Mexico And Arizona.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 25.—The turquoise mines of Arizona and New Mexico have lately not been as productive as formerly, according to a report now in preparation, by the United States Geological Survey. The turquoise properties of California and Nevada, however, have been increasing their output. Considerable quantities of turquoise have been taken from the mines in the desert region of San Bernardino county, California. Many of the stones range from fifty to several hundred carats in size. Some of them have sold for as high as $1,500 each. The color is pale, but it has gained favor, and large quantities of the stones have been sold in the form of beads for necklaces.

PASSENGER TRAIN ON THE TIES NOT RAILS

Narrow Escape Of Passenger Coaches In Crossing A High Trestle Bridge.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Marshalltown, Ia., June 25.—The north-bound passenger train No. 6 of the Great Western Railway was wrecked early today. One car jumped the track at the bridge near Gladbrook and while running on ties train passed over bridge safely. After reaching the far side four coaches were overturned. Several persons were injured but none fatally.

CATTLE FOUND TO BE BADLY DISEASED

Nineteen Out of Nineteen Cows Examined at Lake Mills Were Infected.

State Veterinarian E. D. Roberts returned Saturday from Lake Mills where he examined the herd of suspicious Holstein-Friesian cattle purchased by one William Everson of Spencer Carpenter at Menominee, Mich., and brought into the state without the inspection required by law. Nineteen milk cows examined were all found to be infected with tuberculosis in an advanced stage and three of the ten calves examined were found to be diseased. The balance of the herd had been tested recently and it was deemed advisable to keep them in quarantine awhile before making another test. Five or six had already been sold to farmers in the vicinity of Lake Mills. The state veterinarian is preparing to bring an action in the courts against Mr. Everson and the Chicago & Northwestern railroad for violating the law.

Went to County Farm. Mrs. Jeffries sextette accompanied by George Carter went up to the county asylum with J. P. Wright yesterday where they sang several selections at the musical service which had been arranged at that place.

Want ads. bring good results.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER OF "HOLY ROLLERS" LEADER

Youthful George Mitchell In Court After Avenging Wrongs Done His Sisters.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Seattle, Wash., June 25.—The case of George Mitchell, the youthful slayer of Edmund Creffield, and the avenger of the wrongs done his two sisters by the "Holy Roller" prophet, was called for trial today. No criminal case in many years has attracted so much attention throughout this section as that of young Mitchell and the trial will be followed with intense interest. The accused youth has hosts of sympathizers in Portland, Corvallis and other Oregon points where the people were acquainted with the odious practices and teachings of Creffield and a substantial fund has been raised for Mitchell's defense.

The killing of "Apostle Joshua," as Creffield called himself, occurred on the streets of Seattle some two months ago. "I've got my man, Am in jail," was the unique telegram the young murderer sent to his father at Corvallis.

"I came here from Portland for the purpose of killing Creffield," Mitchell explained after his arrest. "I saw him and his wife on First avenue and shot the man. That's all there is to it. He ruined my two sisters and I took his life."

Shortly before he was killed Creffield had been released from the penitentiary, after serving two years for illicit relations with women. Followers. Prior to his conviction, the peculiar ceremonies of the "Holy Rollers" behind closed doors and by the light of candles, became so objectionable to the people of Corvallis that the authorities were appealed to. Tales too revolting to be put into print were told of the practices habitually indulged in by Creffield and his followers. Many of the latter were wives, sisters and even young daughters and numerous families were broken up before Creffield's career was brought to an end.

Many of the "Holy Rollers" were sent to the insane asylum. Among them was Creffield's wife, then Ida M. Hart. She recovered and got a divorce, while Creffield was in the penitentiary. On his return, however, she remarried him in Seattle, despite the protests of her family. She declares he was guiltless of Mitchell's charges.

BRYAN ENDORSED BY DEMOCRATS

ROCK COUNTY CONVENTION HELD HERE TODAY.

ONLY 26 DELEGATES VOTED

Representatives For State Convention Named—Mass Convention In August.

Just twenty-two delegates were seated when the Rock County Democratic convention was called to order at the court house this afternoon by Chairman J. J. Cunningham. Four appeared later and voted. Resolutions endorsing William J. Bryan as a safe, sane and fearless man for the party standard bearer in 1908, demanding primary election, but considering the present law defective, inefficient and too complex, demanding a revision of the tariff, to lessen graft and corruption and give poor and rich equal rights; demanding regulation of public utilities, and demanding a two-cent passenger fare, were passed. The following were appointed delegates to the state convention, to be held at Milwaukee: I. F. Connors, Andrew Jensen, J. J. Cunningham, Geo. C. Sutherland, John C. Clark, H. A. Molenpau, E. H. Connell, John E. Burns, A. B. Fessenden, F. R. Morris, Thomas A. Ellingson, George Devins, J. J. Dulin, Daniel Finane, C. A. Noen, P. J. Mouat, Mathew Lathers, J. J. Leary. A mass convention of democrats was ordered called for the middle of August, for the purpose being to induce candidates to run for the various county offices and offer them support.

The List Made Out.
The following is the list of delegates that were expected to be present at the convention. In some cases they were the entire democratic population of a certain area of the county and all could not attend and leave the fences unprotected at home to the ravages of the republicans.

Avon—William Grimes, George Bright, Rufus Ban, Sam Johnson. Beloit—James Merwin, W. L. Hoague, John Sherman, O. P. Murwin, Bradford J. O'Reilly. Center—Dan Rogers, John Davis, Dan Conway, Frank Montgomery. Clinton—W. F. Christman, Ray Stewart, John M. Conry, H. A. Molenpau.

Harmony—George Decker, John Campion, J. J. Roach. Janesville—James Mooney, Walter Britt, William Kennedy, James A. Murphy. Johnston—N. M. Mahar, T. C. Sheridan, P. J. McFarlin, L. S. Dickinson, G. Schmaling, W. F. Schmaling.

La Prairie—George D. Turk, Herman Kellogg, James Scott. Lima—William Vickerman, C. B. Palmer, Steve Elphick, M. Holbrook. Macdonald—John Gory, James Ward, John Charles. Milton—D. E. Thorpe, A. M. Paul, Frank Hart, E. R. Morris. Milton, First Precinct—J. C. Goodrich, P. C. Borden, John Paul. Newark—William Naugle, Captain Killians.

Plymouth—John Fox, M. Mulcahey, Frank Wells. Porter—A. B. Fessenden, John Collins, George Nichols, Fred Keelock. Rock—C. N. Griffin, George Otis, James Sennett, John Golden. Spring Valley—L. Ward, John Neeson, H. B. Anderson, John Lathers, William Sterberg, G. W. Cleland, Matt F. Lathers.

Union—Mart Dixon, C. F. Jorgenson, Frank Kine. Clinton Village—H. A. Molenpau, C. N. Cronkite. Orfordville Village—George Helmbolt, Frank Williams. Beloit City—Ira W. Jones, W. H. Myers.

Beloit City, First Ward—Cornelius Buckley, Clinton Babbott. Beloit City, Second Ward—George

Moran, William Wanderly. Beloit, Third Ward—John E. Burns, Bert Holliday.

Beloit, Fourth Ward—J. J. Riordan, P. H. Hawkins, Samuel Allen. Beloit, Fifth Ward—Isaac Cadman, Patrick McKeon, Henry Mills.

Edgerton—Andrew Jensen, Chris Hoen, Charles Tallard, Joe Leary. Janesville, First Ward—J. P. Baker, C. C. McLean, Henry Blunk, Harry Garbut.

Janesville, Second Ward—E. H. Connell, J. F. Hutchinson, E. C. Bauman, John Doran. Janesville, Third Ward—G. C. Sutherland, George McKee, Al. Smith, P. J. Mouat.

Janesville, Fourth Ward—I. F. Connors, Fred Koffman, C. K. Milmore, A. J. Walbur.

Janesville, Fifth Ward—J. J. Dulin, George Croft, E. J. Schmidley, Edward Rathman.

13-YEAR-OLD GIRL "KIDNAPED" FRIDAY

Leland Fiske of Rockton Was in the City Searching For Her This Morning.

Leland Fiske of Rockton visited the police station this morning to ask the officer to make a search for his 13-year-old daughter, Hazel, who disappeared from home last Friday night and whom he suspected of having run away with a man named Walter Willard. No trace of the couple could be found.

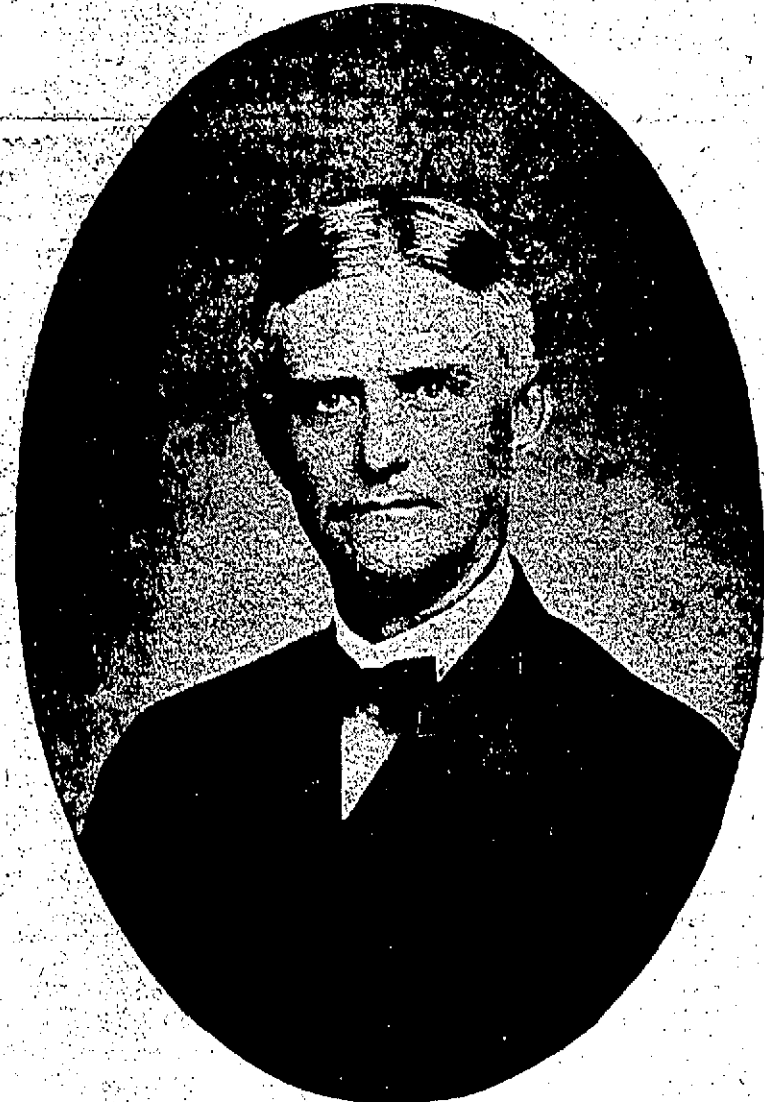

LATE TELEGRAMS.

West Virginia Teachers.
Fairmont, W. Va., June 25.—The teachers of West Virginia certainly have reason to be proud of this, their thirty-sixth annual state convention. Arriving trains today brought scores of members representing every county of the state and every branch of educational activity from the big university to the humble district school. George S. Laidley, of Charleston, president, and the other officers of the association are here and all are enthusiastic over the outlook for the gathering.

Summer Session At Berkeley.
Berkeley, Cal., June 25.—The summer session at the University of California opened today, to continue to August 4. The school will be conducted along exactly the same lines as though the San Francisco calamity had not occurred and judging from the attendance the session will be one of the most successful in the history of the university. The faculty includes not only a number of prominent eastern educators, but also teachers from Holland, England and Mexico.

Veterans At Walla Walla.
Walla Walla, Wash., June 25.—The business streets of Walla Walla are garbed in red, white and blue in honor of the veterans of the grand army whose twenty-fourth annual encampment, department of Washington and Alaska, is in session here. Today was given over to the reception of the visitors, many of whom traveled hundreds of miles in order to attend the gathering. The Sons of Veterans, Woman's Relief Corps and other affiliated societies also meet here tomorrow and Wednesday. The program for the gathering is replete with interesting features of entertainment in addition to the regular business of the encampment.

Southern Kindergarten.
Knoxville, Tenn., June 25.—Every phase of kindergarten work is to be discussed at the first annual convention of the Southern Kindergarten association, which assembled at the University of Tennessee today for a four days session. The program calls for addresses by Miss Fatty S. Hill of Louisville, Mrs. James L. Hughes of Toronto, Dr. Edna Lee Thordike of New York, Miss Amalie Holter of Chicago, Miss Helen Hunt of Jacob Tome Institute, Miss Edwina Wood of Columbus, Ga., and Mrs. Margaret Seymour and Mrs. Eli Hertzberg of Texas.

H. S. MCGIFFIN, PRESIDENT OF THE STATE GOLF ASSOCIATION.

to overflowing. The register of the visitors who have already arrived includes the following names: Dr. Irving Fowle, Dr. Homer H. Fowle, George J. Carroll, L. B. Jones, Hamilton Vose, Dr. G. A. White, Warren Bullock of the Sentinel, T. Inbush, S. D. Wyatt, C. J. Koch, W. J. Riley and P. Mitchell, all of Milwaukee; F. W. Jacobs, J. S. Main, A. L. Sanborn, and H. M. Curtis, Madison; F. J. Foraker, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Finney, and Fred Hewitt of Oshkosh; Dr. E. J. Buchanan of Racine; C. C. Allen and E. M. Pettit of Kenosha; S. D. Merritt and A. Hoelsburg of Fond du Lac; H. O. Fairchild and D. S. Basche of Green Bay; L. C. Colomann, G. W. Burton, A. James, Wallace Houttelotte, Nathaniel Tourtelotte, and James Hixon of La Crosse. Mrs. Hixon and party of six were on their way to Janesville in a touring car and had reached Reedburg just before noon.

Bokey on the St. Louis links is 39. F. W. Jacobs made one round in 38 yesterday. George Hewitt got a 39 Saturday. Hamilton Vose went around the course four times yesterday in 163. Eighteen holes in the morning were made in 81 and in the afternoon the performance was nearly duplicated in 82. The local course has never been played under 37. Leo Brownell, H. G. Carter, and H. S. McGiffin of the local players have made this score. Freddie McLeod, former professional with the Rockford Country club, who lowered the match play) is scheduled to begin at 3:30 p. m.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DENTISTRY

Crown and Bridge Work a Specialty.

DR. KENNEDY

Tallman Bldg., Over Badger Drugstore.

JESSE EARLE

Attorney at Law

Rooms 17-18 Sutherland Bldg.
Janesville, Wis.

CORYDON G. DWIGHT, M. D.

207 Jackson Bldg.

Practice Limited to

EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT

Consultation from 9 to 12 and 2 to 5 and by appointment.

New Phone 890. Old Phone 2762.

E. F. & J. V. NORCROSS

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

701-4 Marquette Building.

Long Distance Phone, Central 4772.

J. J. CUNNINGHAM,

LAWYER.

No. 215 Hayes Block.

Janesville, Wis.

REPORTS ON ROADS

BY RURAL CARRIERS

Wisconsin State Geological Survey

Secures Aid From the Postoffice Department.

The State Geological Survey has been fortunate in securing the cooperation of the postoffice department in collecting information on the roads of the state. There are no persons who travel the roads as faithfully

every day at all seasons of the year as the rural delivery carriers and none who are better qualified to tell of them. They know every rut and bad spot and every broken culvert

as well as the good places.

In response to a request from Mr.

W. O. Hotchkiss, who has charge of economic geology for the State Survey, the Fourth Assistant Postmaster

General has sent a letter to postmasters in the state asking them to furnish the State Survey with all the information desired about roads along the rural free delivery routes.

In a few days a list of questions will be sent to each rural free delivery carrier. The answers will furnish information that will be as detailed as could be obtained in any way by the state, and through the kindness of the postoffice department will cost practically nothing. There are about 500 rural free delivery carriers in the state, and their routes aggregate something like 37,000 miles of roads, or about one-half of the total mileage of roads in the state. By this means a fair road census of about half the road mileage of the state will be obtained at a cost of about a few dollars for postage in sending out lists of questions, while any other means that could be used for collecting the information would cost at a conservative estimate, several thousand dollars. The information thus obtained will assist in putting the Geological Survey in position to advise as to the best method of making roads in any part of the state.

It is of interest to note that Wisconsin is the second state in which this novel method of collecting data on roads is used. The scheme was originated and first used in Illinois

by Mr. A. N. Johnson of the Illinois

Highway Commission. The willingness of the postoffice department to cooperate in the necessity of good roads for cheap and efficient rural delivery service. They are anxious to assist in any way possible in getting the rural districts to keep their roads in the best possible condition.

The fact that the postoffice, whose carriers form an extremely small part of the travel over the country roads, is anxious to cut expenses by having better roads for its carriers to travel on, is strong evidence that the farmers themselves would save much money if the roads were improved and kept in proper shape.

Excursion to Devil's Lake, Wis.

Blm. Co. & N. W. Ry., Thursday,

June 28, to this famous resort for only $1.25 for the round trip from

MEAT EXPORTS HAD INCREASEDDEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE RE-PORT FOR PAST TEN YEARS.

INTERESTING AT THIS TIME

Sidelights On New Personages In Washington And Other Capitol

News.

(By William Wolf Smith.)

Washington, D. C., June 22. (Special correspondence.) In view of the widespread interest in meat products caused by the revealing of the conditions in the packing houses by the president and Messrs. Neill and Reynolds, a statement of the department of commerce and labor on the exports of meats and meat products by the United States will be of interest.

These exports in the eleven months of the fiscal year 1906 ending with

May last aggregated over 180 million dollars. This shows an increase of sixty per cent when compared with the figures for the corresponding period of 1896. This increase occurs in all of the principal meat products, but is especially noticeable in lamb, pork, salted pork, fresh beef and fresh pork. The value of the lamb exports in the ten months ending with April 1906 was fifty-one and a half millions, as compared to twenty-eight and a half millions in April,

1896. Exports of fresh beef increased from less than fifteen millions dollars in the ten months period of 1896 to practically twenty millions in the 1906 period; hams from nine and one-half millions to sixteen and one-half millions; oleo oil and oleomargarine from seven and one-half to practically fifteen millions; salted pork from three and a half to practically ten millions. Canned beef exports show but little increase during the decade,

the value in the ten months of 1896 being less than five millions. Exports of bacon also show but a small increase, the value in the ten months of 1896 being twenty-nine millions and in 1906 being nearly thirty millions.

The department estimates the total value of meat and meat products exported by the United States in the fiscal year 1906 will be two hundred million dollars. The land exports of the United States in 1905 went direct to seventy-five countries and colonies, the largest quantity to the United Kingdom, Germany, the Netherlands,

Belgium and Cuba. Practically every European country was a consumer of American lamb and the exports also went to all of the countries of North and South America and the principal countries of Asia and Oceania. The exports of bacon and hams go to the United Kingdom, Belgium, the Netherlands and Cuba; oleomargarine and oleo oil to the Netherlands, Germany,

United Kingdom, Norway and Denmark; salted pork to the United Kingdom, Canada, Belgium, the Netherlands and South Africa. Great Britain is by far the largest purchaser of American meat products.

Of the seventy-five million dollars worth of bacon, ham, fresh beef and canned beef exported in 1905, the United Kingdom took sixty-six million dollars worth, or practically ninety per cent of the total; of the total exports of meats, valued at one hundred million dollars, she took eighty million dollars worth, or eighty per cent of the total. In the same year she took thirty-seven million dollars worth.

The latest complete available figures on the exports of meat and meat products from the United States are for the ten months period ending with April of the current year, during which time $166,508,306 worth of lamb, fresh beef, hams, oleo oil and oleomargarine, salted pork, canned beef and salted beef, sausage casings and fresh and canned pork and other meats were exported as compared to $104,675,345 worth in the same period of 1896.

For the first time in ten years the United States senate today has on its roll the future quota of ninety members. During that period one or more of the members of that body were under a cloud, so to speak, by reason of their being in the hands of the law for violation of the constitutional mandate that no member of the senate shall practice before any of the executive departments of the government in a legal capacity for pay.

The chief offenders in this respect were Senators Mitchell of Oregon and Burton of Kansas. Both of these men remained from the senate chamber during the time of their indictment for had they put in an appearance at that august body during the pendency of their trials for such acts they would have been expelled from their seats by a vote of the senate and thus escaped the shame of a jail sentence, while Senator Burton was forced to vacate his seat after an absence of two years, during which time he left no stone unturned to secure a vindication from the charges brought against him. The supreme court of the United States twice passed unfavorably upon his case and the senate leaders threatened to expel him if he did not relinquish his seat, which he did.

The election to the senate of Col.

Henry A. Du Pont fills a seat in the senate from Delaware which J. Edward Addicks prevented anyone from filling save himself for a period of ten years. He wanted the seat and wanted it badly and would not allow it to be filled by anybody but J. Edward Addicks. Addicks has so monopolized the politics of Delaware for the past 10 years that the little commonwealth has, during that period, been represented in the upper chamber by only one senator, with the exception of the 53th congress, when Dr. J. Heister

Ball served as a senator for two years. A year or two previous to this Addicks so manipulated politics in Delaware that for a time she had no representation whatever in the senate. The senate now has a membership of ninety members, the full constitutional number, and each of the forty-five states, in the United States has representation in that body.

An interesting compilation has been made of the periods during which some of the states have not been represented in the senate for one year or another during the past ten years. It shows that California was without full representation in the senate from March 4, 1899 to February 1, 1900; Delaware from March

4, 1895 to February 5, 1897; two vacancies occurring in this period; Montana from March 4, 1892 to January

16, 1895; Oregon from March 4, 1897 to October 8, 1895; Pennsylvania from

March 4, 1899 to January 16, 1901.

In the meantime the late Senator

Quay was claiming his right to the senate on an appointment of the governor, but it was denied by a resolution of the senate. Utah was without full representation in the senate from

March 4, 1899 to January 23, 1901.

Washington from March 4, 1893 to February 1, 1895, and Wyoming from

March 4, 1893 to January 23, 1895.

In all of the above cases, the cause for the lack of full representation in the senate was the failure of the legislatures to elect.

Senator A. W. Benson, the successor of J. R. Burton in the senate from Kansas, is a small man in stature, pleasant in demeanor, but very modest and unassuming. Mr.

Benson is a veteran of the civil war, having marched as a private soldier through Washington with Gen. Early in 1862, and again in 1865 with Sherman's army during the grand review.

"I am only a country lawyer," said

Senator Benson the other evening at his hotel. "I had no thought whatever of becoming a United States senator and was naturally surprised when Governor Hoch informed me of my appointment over the long-distance telephone. I wish to emphatically deny that I stated that one non-senator could not do much in the senate. This story evidently originated from the fact that one of my neighbors called on me and urged me to take the senatorship, saying that the country needed honest men and that it was my duty to go. I replied that there was little that I could hope to do during the closing days of the session. There was therefore no ground for the statement which was misunderstood by the reporter who heard

THE STORY OF CLASSIFIED TOWN

The Dancing Teacher.

CHAPTER XV.

Here's the professor with smiling face;
In Classified Town he's a model of grace.
He teaches dancing, ball room or stage,
And teaches it well, no matter the age.

As a teacher of dancing he made a success,
But there's one little thing he will freely confess.

If he was a teacher of music or art
Success would be his, he knows, from the start.

Like all who are wise he would quickly engage.
A few lines of space on the Classified page.

Gazette want ads each day he would use;
For they are the ads the people peruse.

(To be continued tomorrow.)

WANT ADS.

WANTED.

Letters for "N. M." and "Z." are awaiting claimants at this office.

BOARDING at 205 S. Main street; seven meals for $1.

WANTED—Bright, active boy 16 to 18 years of age, to learn printers' trade at Gazette.

WANTED—Girls for summer resort, $1 a week. Inquire tonight. Also girls for private homes and hotel work. Mrs. E. A. McGarity, 276 West Milwaukee St.

WANTED—Live, vigorous man with some experience in real estate and $200 in cash, to enter established firm doing a good business. Good opportunity for right party. Address 444 Gazette.

WANTED—A competent girl, for general housework. Mrs. C. N. Rexford, 275 Washington St.

WANTED—Housekeeper for aged couple, one of whom is ill. Inquire at 115 W. Milwaukee St.

WANTED—Two or three rooms (furnished) for light housekeeping. Inquire at 115 W. Milwaukee St.

WANTED—For U. S. Army—Able bodied, married man between ages of 21 and 45, of good character, of good character, and temperate habits, who can speak, read and write English. For information apply to Recruiting office, Empress Hotel, Janesville, Wis.

WANTED—Dressmaking by the day. Inquire at Mrs. Sander's No. 1, A. Jackson St.

WANTED—Work by day on farm, for three months; $1.50 per day and board. Address Wm. H. Allen, A. Belmont, Wis.

WANTED—Men at the Janesville Red Brick yard, $1.50 a day. For further information apply at brick yard.

WANTED—A young girl, 14 or 15 years old, to care for a baby. 130 Lincoln St.

WANTED—Six girls to operate sewing machines and for general work. Steady employment. Lewis Knitting Co., 275 Washington St.

WANTED—Boarders at 222 Washington St.

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Steam heated flat with all modern improvements. Most desirable place in the city as it faces the park. Inquire of A. C. Kent, at Park drugstore.

FOR RENT—Two furnished rooms, 303 N. First St.

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms. Also a barn, 165 Pleasant St.

FOR RENT—Four rooms; modern improvements. Call 115 North Academy St.

FOR RENT—Outside corner offices now occupied by Metropolitan Life, in Hayes block, and Milwaukee Sts. Inquire of G. S. Fishery.

FOR RENT—Modern flat; hardwood floors; bath, gas range, etc. Newly decorated. Inquire at Grubb's clothing store.

FOR RENT—An eight-room house, with all modern conveniences, in Third ward. Inquire of Wilson Lane, Hayes block.

FOR RENT—J. C. Brownell's cottage, at Laurel Lake. Inquire of Leo Hirschfeld.

FOR RENT—Modern 10-room house, corner of Court and Harrison Sts. Call on Mrs. A. E. Rich or Scott & Sherman.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—Good improved Northern Iowa farm, 600 acres close to county seat town of 15,000 population. Fine grain and stock farm. Would consider stock of merchandise, smaller farm or income property. Box 31, Independence, Iowa.

A FEW BARGAINS—We have a number of good houses that can be bought cheap; also vacant lots. If you are looking for a home, call and see us. We have a large lot of property to select from, and will give you a square deal. Money to loan at 3 per cent on good security. If you are looking for a home, farm, investment or loan, we have them.

For rent—Several good houses, well located. For particulars call on SCOTT & SHERMAN.

Real Estate Loans & Fire Ins. 21 West Milwaukee St., Phone 115; both phones.

FOR SALE—A fine thirty acres near Clinton, Wis., with all improvements. Soil good for tobacco or sugar beets. Inquire of A. C. Mohlenpaul, Clinton, Wis.

FOR SALE—A fresh Jersey cow, three years old. T. F. Palmer, Overlook.

FOR SALE—Canopy top surrey with polo and shuttles. Apply to City Treasurer James A. Falters.

FOR SALE—A rubber tired stanoop; Buchholz make, used but two seasons; as good as new. Price $75. M. W. Smith, 17 Logan Ave. city.

MISCELLANEOUS

WILL the lady who picked up the handkerchief on the corner of Washington and Taylor Sts., please return it to 233 Taylor St.

LOST on Milwaukee St. between Grubb's store and Locket's bowling alley—a $5 bill; by a working boy. Finder kindly leave at Gazette.

TO TRADE—Two fine quarter sections of land well improved, to trade for residences, good business property or stock of hardware. J. T. Johnson, Glen, Minn.

LOST on Milton road, a blue cap with three gold stars. Please return to J. S. Field.

Proof of Good Judgment:

Hicks—Your wife is a mighty sensible woman, isn't she?

Wicks—Sure! She married me—

Somerville Journal.

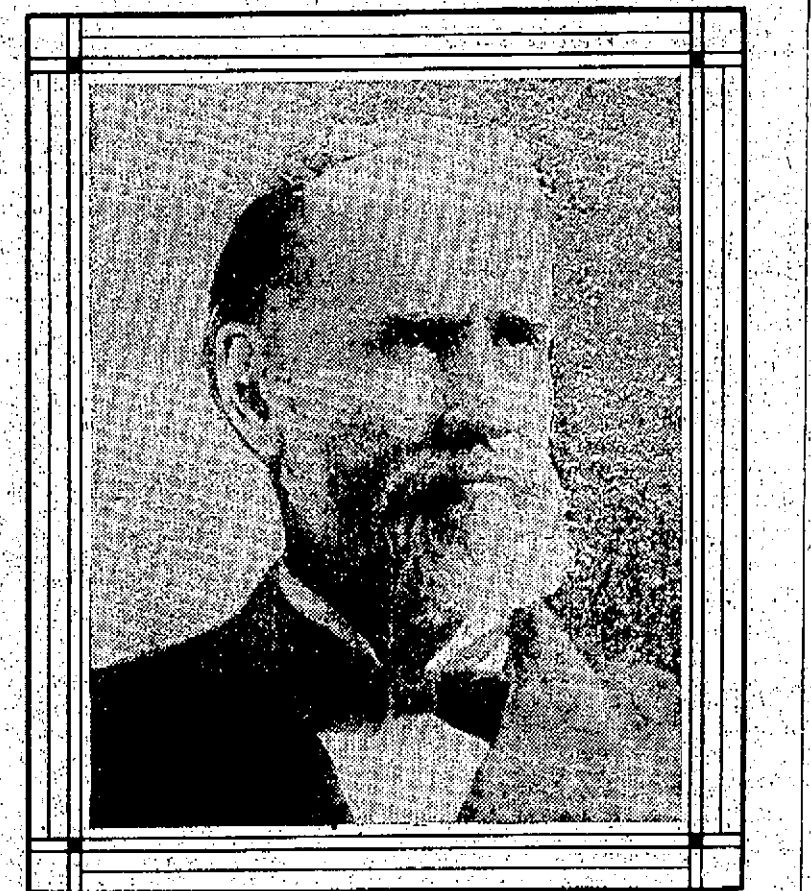

Buy it in Janesville.

...FORTY YEARS AGO...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, June 25th, 1906.—Potato Bugs.—This destructive bug made its appearance last year in some parts of the state, but not so generally as to excite alarm, or even much attention. Where it appeared at all, the potato patch was victimized. These pests have made their appearance about Janesville, and as some have no knowledge of their appearance, we describe them. In form they are hemispherical, and three or four times the size of the cucumber bug, of the same form; color, reddish yellow, some of them striped, commonly found at first in pairs. They spread their eggs in patches, underside of leaves; eggs same color as bugs; the eggs hatch irregularly, and the new bugs appear in all sizes and in several ugly forms.

June 25, 1848—Fifty-eight years ago today Paris was declared in a state of siege. Find two soldiers.

James Wilson.

Secretary of Agriculture.

Scandalous Impudence.

At the art exhibition indignant husband points out to wife a study of a picturesque beggar. "This is shameful, my dear. What are we coming to? Here's a man to whom I'd give a coin if I saw him in the street, and yet he can afford to have his portrait done in oils!"—La Rive.

Perfectly Willing.

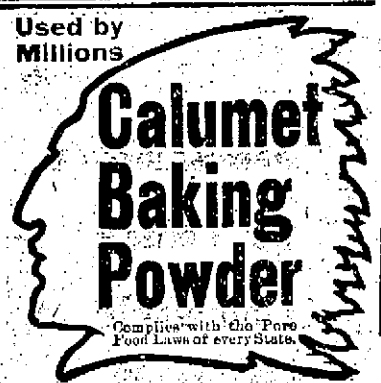

E. Bangs: Izair—May I—aw—have the next value? Letta Sloan—I haven't the slightest objection. That's the one I don't—aw—dawnce.—Chicago Tribune.

Abating Some.

The Chicago man rubbed his hands gleefully, enthusiastically. "I see by the morning paper that there was a daylight robbery on Michigan avenue yesterday," he exclaimed, with sparkling eyes.

We were greatly taken aback by his levity. "And do you really rejoice in such a proof of low moral tone?" we protested, as with one voice.

He shrugged his shoulders. "Well, at any rate, it shows the smoke nuisance is abating some," he chuckled, and moved off.—Pack.

Buy it in Janesville.

Sporting World.

Governor Higgins Did Well to Stop New York Fight Fakes—Gossip.

By WILLIE WEST.

"It'd rather be right than be champion of the world," says Gus Ruhlin, the heavyweight pugilist.

"Don't worry, Gus. You will never be either."

Governor Higgins of New York should be given a gold medal by honest sportsmen because of his action in putting a stop to the brand of prize ring acrobatics recently rife in the metropolis. All the fight fakirs (that is, almost all) in Christendom had been cavorting on the canvas cloth in New York city when the low men higher up got the tip to close up and club down. Yet the populace paid real money to see McGovern "whip" Jimmy Britt. Was Britt chloroformed? Probably it would be libelous to print Britt's actual trouble.

I am not the only writer who believes Britt could have walloped Terry all over the landscape with one of his (Britt's) hands tied behind his back. The Corbett-McCoy fake fades into nothing alongside of the Britt-McGovern exercise gallop.

The governor's action was right. Square fighting he possibly would have allowed to continue so long as the bouts were confined to the legal three round limit. One New York paper has been particularly loud in its attacks on the governor because of his action.

I wonder if the public knows that the sporting editor of the paper in question obtained his job through one of the managers of a club prominent as a promulgator of the rawest sort of pugilistic fakes.

Commodore William L. Baum of the Chicago Yacht club has done much to foster yachting among the members of that organization and was named by the boat owners to encourage and promote the sport.

He owns Arcadia, a steel auxiliary yawl, one of the finest boats on the lake. His first appearance as a yachtsman was in the race boat Colleen, with Charley Murphy, president of the Chicago Nationals, has a temper that resembles Vesuvius out on a Saturday night spree. A West Indies hurricane visited Chicago recently, but on hearing Charley "calling down" one of his major league associates tucked its tail between its legs and ran back home in wild dismay.

Charley's "Spuds" can play fast ball all right, but the big draft that sets in when the president gets riled will pull the grand stand down on them some day.

By the way, here's a riddle:

Why is Chicago called the Windy City?

The answer is, "Charles W. Murphy."

CY SEYMOUR.

His Style of Batting—Jim Burckett and Tip O'Neil.

Cy Seymour of Cincinnati, as a batter, has a quick, snappy wrist movement, something after the style of Lip Pike, who in his day was one of the best and longest hitters in the business.

Other players who started out as pitchers and who gained premier batting honors but only after shifting positions, were Jim Burckett, who was also a "south paw," and also a left hand batter, as is Seymour, and Tip O'Neil, who was a pitcher for the New York Giants in 1883.

Burckett led the National league three times and O'Neil the American association in 1884 and 1885.

Van Halten and John Ward were also pitchers originally who when they quit the box developed into great batters, fielders and runners.

Young's Ups and Downs.

Pitcher Young of the Boston Nationals won the first six games he pitched and then lost his next five games straight.

Ras Phelps Nailed Down.

The Pittsburgh club says that there is not the slightest flaw in its claim to the services of Catcher Eddie Phelps.

Pirates Want St. Louis Slagger.

Pittsburgh is now dickering for Emmett Heidrick, being willing to pay St. Louis a nice sum for the player.

How about that phonograph? Still think you'd like to trade it for a roll-top desk? Say so in a want ad.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

The only form of food made from wheat that is all nutriment is the soda cracker, and yet—the only soda cracker of which this is really true is

Unedea Biscuit

The only soda cracker scientifically baked.

The only soda cracker effectually protected.

The only soda cracker ever fresh, crisp and clean.

The only soda cracker good at all times.

5¢ In a dust tight, moisture proof package.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

TWICE A YEAR SUIT SALE

Handsome Tailored Suits for Women Much Under Value.

Special sale offers the greater part of what remains of the season's suits at a choice for a uniform price. The first sale of 1906 was held in February and this one is in force from today. The nobbiest of the season's suits, made of such materials as panamas, serges, chevots, men's suitings. The colors are black, navy, green, old rose, Alice blue, fancy mixtures and greys. The styles are every one of this season's production and are just the thing to wear for the next few months. Cool evenings require a wrap of some kind and the coats to these suits serve the purpose. Values are $15, $18, $20, $22.50 and $25 but are $10.50 on sale at a choice. Think of nobby suits at such a price.

Simpson
DRAGGOODS

LAKE BREEZES MANITOU

Can be enjoyed in safe delight on the STEEL STEAMSHIP FOR COMFORT, REST AND PLEASURE
It offers an unequalled opportunity
First Class Only—Passenger Service Exclusively
No smoking, drinking, or gaming on board. Perfectly safe, comfortable, and pleasant trip. For particulars, apply to J. F. BEROLZHEIM, G. P. A. Manitou Steamship Co., Chicago.

WARNING TO FISH EATERS

Study of Leprosy by English Physician Brings Out Startling Fact.

Dr. Jonathan Hutchinson, one of the best known of English physicians, who has been devoting himself for years to the study of leprosy and its causes, has set forth in a long letter to the English press his conclusions concerning this loathsome disease.

Not content with studying leprosy at every point in Europe where it had appeared, Dr. Hutchinson made a journey of investigation through the leprosy districts of South Africa and India, the result being to confirm his original theory that leprosy, at all times and in all countries is caused in a great degree by the consumption of imperfectly cured or of tainted fish.

In India he found vegetarians are almost wholly free from the disease. Wherever the dietetic use of cereals has lessened the consumption of fish the ravages of the disease have either been decreased or altogether discontinued. Hawaii and other of the South Sea islands had no leprosy until fish curing was introduced as an industry.

That leprosy is not contagious is shown by the fact that attendants in leprosy hospitals do not contract the disease, but numerous cases are on record where healthy persons, going to countries where the disease is established, eat the fish of the country and become afflicted with the disease.

Good Army.

The governor of Heirat has presented the following report to the ameer of Afghanistan: "The behavior of the army is satisfactory, and there have been no cases of serious crime. The Herat army now says its prayers five times a day, and the men are becoming pukka (very good) Mussulmans."

Eight-Hour Day for Society.

There should be an eight-hour day for "fashionable" women. We cannot talk scandal continuously for 12, as we do now—the excitement and the strain upon the imagination are terrific.

London Truth.

How about that phonograph? Still think you'd like to trade it for a roll-top desk? Say so in a want ad.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

Buy it in Janesville.

...HATS...

We have received another shipment. Men's sailors at 25c, 50c and $1.00 each.

Men's fancy shapes at 25c and 50c. Men's wide rim straw hats at 15c and 25c.

Mexican shape harvest hats at 25c. Boys' sailor hats at 10c and 15c. Girls' fancy wide rim hats at 25c and 50c.

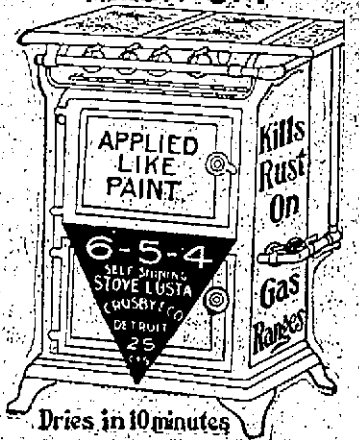

Men's fur hats, black or brown, at 50c. Men's fur hats, black or brown, or gray, an excellent value at $1.00.

Men's black hats, nobby shapes, our best quality, at $1.50.

MRS. E. HALL,

55 W. Milwaukee Street.

6-5-4 WILL NOT WASH OFF

Dries in 10 minutes

No work shines itself

For Sale by H. L. McNamara and A. H. Sheldon Hardware Co., Janesville.

For Sale by H. L. McNamara and A. H. Sheldon Hardware Co., Janesville.

For Sale by H. L. McNamara and A. H. Sheldon Hardware Co., Janesville.

For Sale by H. L. McNamara and A. H. Sheldon Hardware Co., Janesville.

For Sale by H. L. McNamara and A. H. Sheldon Hardware Co., Janesville.

For Sale by H. L. McNamara and A. H. Sheldon Hardware Co., Janesville.

For Sale by H. L. McNamara and A. H. Sheldon Hardware Co., Janesville.

For Sale by H. L. McNamara and A. H. Sheldon Hardware Co., Janesville.

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE

Business Office Open Saturday Evenings.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Partly cloudy with possibly showers west and central.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Daily Edition—By Carrier.

One Year $3.00

One Month .50

One Year, cash in advance. 5.00

Six Months, cash in advance. 2.50

One Year $4.00

One Year—Rural delivery in Rock County. 5.00

Six Months—Rural delivery in Rock County. 2.50

WEEKLY EDITION—By Carrier.

One Year, cash in advance. 1.50

Business Office Telephone No. 77.

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

Editorial Rooms. 77-3

ness men, especially by those who are at the top of the tree. The London Financial Times.

That is a fearful indictment to be made against the United States Superintendence, it would seem to be largely justified by the recent revelations of graft and other forms of wrong in the great corporations of the country.

Look more deeply into the matter, however. Is it not true that the fact that this wrongdoing has been disclosed, and has been given a wide publicity, and that vigorous measures have been taken to reform conditions and punish offenders, is a signal proof of the essential honesty of the people of this country?

Prof. Bryce, in his "American Commonwealth," makes a searching analysis of the American character and gives a faithful account of the American system. Read the following extract from the work of this eminent Englishman that throws light upon this very question:

"It is chiefly the faith in publicity that gives to the American public their peculiar buoyancy, and what may be called their airy hopefulness. In discussing even the weak points of their system, they are always telling you that they have no skeletons, nothing to keep back. They know and are content that all the world should know the worst as well as the best of themselves. They have a boundless faith in free inquiry and full discussion. They admit the possibility of any number of temporary errors and delusions. But to suppose that a vast nation should, after hearing everything, canvassing everything, and trying all the preliminary experiments it has a mind to, ultimately go wrong by mistaking its own true interests, seems to them a sort of blasphemy against the human intelligence and its Creator."

What the United States has been doing during the past year is to apply the principle of publicity to the evils which had developed as an almost inevitable result of amazing prosperity. It has opened its closet and displayed the skeleton therein. This is a proclamation of the world of its absolute good faith, and a striking and conclusive guarantee that it is getting rid of everything that would prevent it from dealing justly with all the world. The shock of these disclosures may, indeed, temporarily disturb our trade, especially with foreign countries, but ultimately it must have directly the opposite result by impressing our foreign customers with the absolute openness and earnestness with which we deal with our national evils. What other country would have dealt with this matter so publicly? And is not this publicity, leading to the passage of an adequate inspection bill, likely to restore foreign and domestic confidence?

Coal men appreciate a cold raw spring if the ice men do not.

If this is summer what have we been having for the past month?

The Milwaukee Journal still preists that Bryan is the man.

A count of the noses in the saloon question will soon be in order.

June weddings are most interesting things to witness at any rate.

The democratic state convention is to be held in Milwaukee this week.

That Madison interurban promises to be a useful adjunct when it is built.

Isaac Stephenson still owns the Milwaukee Free Press, according to testimony.

Sunday beer parties are still held despite the lack of sanction of the W. C. T. U.

Thus far the ice-man has had no chance to realize the possibilities of complete hold as a trust.

Baseball games galore can be played and still some people will say baseball is on the decline.

The project to blast the logs out of Rock river appears to be a most excellent one for everyone concerned.

The Milwaukee Free Press has spoken out to Houser and of course they know what they are talking about.

No one can conceive a plan whereby Janesville can be benefitted more than by an interurban. This to the council.

Janesville streets are better ordered than ever before, thanks to good and intelligent supervision of the city's interest.

This is golfers' week. Watch for the surprising stories that will be told from now on, and the Scotch that will be spoken not imbibed.

Lenroot still believes he is in the race. For what he is not certain, but he still thinks he can "go some" on the back stretch.

Janesville is ready with a candidate for congress even if one does drop out suddenly. All hail to Thomas S. Nolan, the next congressman from Rock county.

So Senator McGilivray thinks that Governor Davidson has taken an unfair advantage by using the fish commissioner as his vote-getting machine.

The Beloit Daily News goes into a spasm of delight in announcing John Cunningham's candidacy for district attorney of Rock county.

Hon. Pliny Norcross will without doubt again receive the republican nomination for assembly from the second district and the nomination should carry election with it.

Some people can not get over the fact that the war is over and still want to impress upon the masses the ponderousness of the massive intellect as to right and wrong.

That the band concerts should all be held in the Court House park is conceded by all but a few bigoted men who still harp on the east and west sides of the river. Both sides constitute Janesville.

With Thomas S. Nolan out for the congressional nomination it is safe to say that Rock county will be heard from during the coming campaign. While Rock is but one county of the six constituting the first congressional district it is an important one and Mr. Nolan will amply demonstrate that it furnishes good live politicians from the ground up.

THE SKELETON IN THE CLOSET.

"That honesty is the best policy is a maxim which has yet to be learned by a large section of American busness men, especially by those who are at the top of the tree. The London Financial Times.

That is a fearful indictment to be made against the United States Superintendence, it would seem to be largely justified by the recent revelations of graft and other forms of wrong in the great corporations of the country.

Look more deeply into the matter, however. Is it not true that the fact that this wrongdoing has been disclosed, and has been given a wide publicity, and that vigorous measures have been taken to reform conditions and punish offenders, is a signal proof of the essential honesty of the people of this country?

Prof. Bryce, in his "American Commonwealth," makes a searching analysis of the American character and gives a faithful account of the American system. Read the following extract from the work of this eminent Englishman that throws light upon this very question:

"It is chiefly the faith in publicity that gives to the American public their peculiar buoyancy, and what may be called their airy hopefulness. In discussing even the weak points of their system, they are always telling you that they have no skeletons, nothing to keep back. They know and are content that all the world should know the worst as well as the best of themselves. They have a boundless faith in free inquiry and full discussion. They admit the possibility of any number of temporary errors and delusions. But to suppose that a vast nation should, after hearing everything, canvassing everything, and trying all the preliminary experiments it has a mind to, ultimately go wrong by mistaking its own true interests, seems to them a sort of blasphemy against the human intelligence and its Creator."

What the United States has been doing during the past year is to apply the principle of publicity to the evils which had developed as an almost inevitable result of amazing prosperity. It has opened its closet and displayed the skeleton therein. This is a proclamation of the world of its absolute good faith, and a striking and conclusive guarantee that it is getting rid of everything that would prevent it from dealing justly with all the world. The shock of these disclosures may, indeed, temporarily disturb our trade, especially with foreign countries, but ultimately it must have directly the opposite result by impressing our foreign customers with the absolute openness and earnestness with which we deal with our national evils. What other country would have dealt with this matter so publicly? And is not this publicity, leading to the passage of an adequate inspection bill, likely to restore foreign and domestic confidence?

Coal men appreciate a cold raw spring if the ice men do not.

If this is summer what have we been having for the past month?

The Milwaukee Journal still preists that Bryan is the man.

never, no never, agree to let Senator James F. Fenn have his place that he considers the latter as partly responsible for the Host accusations. He is willing to let go, however, in favor of J. A. Stone of Neenahsburg.

It Has That Look.

Oshkosh Northwestern: What a queer thing this sympathetic strike is, anyhow. The Manitowish Tribune says that some eight or ten molders in that city are on a strike, not because they have any fault to find with their own jobs or want anything for themselves, but because there is a strike of molders at Milwaukee and they want to show they are in sympathy with it. Looks foolish, doesn't it?

Warned By One Of Worst.

Exchange: Tom Johnson of Ohio has written to Mr. Johnson to inform him that a lot of people whose support might be dangerous, are becoming enthusiastic shouters for him. Probably, however, Mr. Bryan realizes this as well as any one; for he has had some experience in this line before. And one of the shouters who did as much as anybody to injure him in his last campaign was Tom Johnson.

San Francisco Resents "Frisco."

Wall Street Journal: The Wall Street Journal recently headed an article "Ten million dollars for 'Frisco.'" This has brought the following protest from Zoeth S. Eldredge, president of the National Bank of the Pacific at San Francisco: "We have borne without complaint the loss of homes, property and business; but the loss of our good name is an added calamity and hard to bear." The Wall Street Journal makes its apologies. San Francisco is San Francisco, not "Frisco."

Superfluous Advice.

Madison Journal: When Bishop Fallows told the university boys and girls Sunday to get into politics, smiles were seen to spread over the countenances of many of his hearers. The exhortation was needless at Wisconsin. The Badger state has been a hotbed of politics for the past decade and the university youth has shown no disposition to shrink from participation in the game, but has rather welcomed the opportunity to leap into its fascinating midst.

Row in Their Own Camp.

Milwaukee Journal: The Houser case differs from the other semi-political runuses of the past few years. It is a row entirely within the La Follette camp, and comes about by the complaint of Insurance Commissioner Host, who was secretary in the first two La Follette state campaigns. Houser has always been in the inner circle of La Follette's friends and it was he who attended a banquet in New York only last winter to inform Gotham how great are "Bob" and reform in Wisconsin.

Inhumanity Not So Common.

Chicago Chronicle: President Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin in his recent commencement address said it was a common thing for an elderly rich man "who upon the road to success has ruthlessly crushed the weaker along the highway" to turn philanthropist. This may happen sometimes, but the sweeping statement that it is "a frequent spectacle" is certainly unwarranted. People who have become rich by selfishness usually remain selfish until they die, and wherever a rich man is found to be generous and philanthropic it is apt to be found that he has been so, on a smaller scale perhaps, all his life.

MODERN DEVIL WORSHIP.

Jeremonials Conducted in Munny Temples in Mysterious Manner.

The dark forces which science recognizes, but does not define, exercise marvelous attraction on minds of a certain order. In scores of temples they are worshipped under different names. I know of a little temple in Bruges, writes Vance Thompson, in Everybody's Magazine, where the followers of Lucifer gather, and not far from the Pantheon in Paris there is an altar to Pandemonium. This may seem grotesque; perhaps it is, but it is formidable.

It need hardly be said that the rites wherewith Lucifer is worshipped are full in much mystery. A couple of years ago I visited one of the "chapels," it was in the Rue Rochechouart. The Black Mass, which I have no desire to describe, was celebrated. It was Friday at three o'clock. Over the altar was a winged figure of Lucifer, amid flames; he trampled under foot a cross—symbol of the church. A few days ago I found the chapel closed. Only after patient research did I find the new abode of the Satanists. Their chapel now is in a great new apartment house, at No. 22 Rue du Rousseau, within the shadow of the cathedral of the Sacred Heart, on Montmartre. As of old, Satan is worshipped; every Friday the Luciferians gather. I could name many of them; men, not unknown in the learned professions. Some of them have influence enough to secure, now and then, a right of midnight entry to the catacombs; their amid skulls and bones, with organs I do not care to describe, they have worshipped the spirit of evil—calling upon Lucifer and Beelzebub and Ashtaroth and Moloch—with cries and "waiting hysteria. This attempt to reestablish the worship of the fallen archangel is, I think, the most remarkable manifestation of modern occultism.

Woman with Longest Hair.

Mercedes Lopez, a Mexican woman, is said to possess the longest hair of any person in the world. Her height is five feet and when she stands erect her hair trails on the ground four feet eight inches. The hair is so thick that she can completely hide herself in it. She has cut it very frequently, as it grows quickly, enabling her to sell large tresses to hair dealers every month.

Want ads bring good results.

FAST SHIPS KILL PARROTS

Make Such Rapid Trips the Birds Cannot Get Used to Changes.

According to the accounts of the dealers in wild animals, the domestic gray parrot is likely in course of time to become a rare bird in this country. The effect will not be felt immediately, because the parrot, as is well known, is a bird of very long life. Those that we have now, therefore, will be with us for a long while still; but very few fresh ones are being imported.

The reason is singular and paradoxical one, namely, that the time spent on the voyage is so short in comparison with what it used to occupy in the old sailing days, that the parrots do not become acclimated by degrees, as they once did, and the mortality among them is so great in consequence, that it is not worth while importing them.

A possible expedient might be to give them a half-way house at the Canary Islands, where they could sojourn awhile on their way from the west coast of Africa—Country Life, London.

DUNCE MAN OF LEARNING.

Nickname of Dunscottus, a Scholar Who Lived Six Hundred Years Ago.

"Dunce" is generally applied to dull, stupid, unteachable boys. The person from whose name the word is supposed to have been derived was quite a different character.

It was used as a term of reproach by the Thomists to the followers of Dunscottus, who was their antagonist in a religious controversy. This "Johnnes Dunscottus" was a very learned man, who lived about the end of the thirteenth century, and beginning of the fourteenth century. The English say he was born in Northumberland, the Scotch allege he was born at Duns, in the Mers, this neighboring county of Northumberland, and hence he was called Dunscottus.

He died at Cologne, November 8, 1308. His fame was so great that when at Oxford 20,000 scholars attended to hear his lectures.

The Thomists were the followers of Thomas Aquinas, a Dominican friar, celebrated for his learning.

Restraining Extravagance.

Reports from Sweden that a league has been formed there for the purpose of restraining extravagance in women's dress, have an Elizabeth ring about them. In 1570 "the principal citizens of London" were become so extravagant in their dress that it was thought necessary to restrain the same; and the result was a proclamation issued by her majesty "against excess of apparel, gold chains and cloaks, the latter of which were made so long that they reached down to the heels."

His System.

"How do you dispose of your garbage here?" asked the stranger, who was gathering data for purposes of publication.

"We always throw ours in the garbage can," said the man with the chin beard, "but I don't know, of course, about the neighbors."

Not Deterred by Noise.

The idea that birds select secluded places to build their nests has been proved false. Birds have been known to build in the noisiest or most conspicuous places. A sparrow's nest was discovered in an electric light on the Thames embankment, London, where the lamp was lighted and put out each day.

Weather Forecasts for Farmers.

The German government is making preparations for the issue shortly of weather forecasts for agriculturists. The forecasts will be sent free or at a nominal charge, and the success of the undertaking will be judged from returns of the subsequent weather supplied by the recipients of the information.

Queer Mania.

A man who was arrested for breaking into a house in Berlin explained that he only wished a pair of shoes belonging to a celebrated Russian pianist who was staying in the house. A collection of women's shoes, all docketed and catalogued, was found in his room.

Honeymoon Over.

When a man will eat spring onions at a free lunch before going home in the evening it is a sure sign that the honeymoon is a thing of the past.—Detroit: Free Press.

Razor and 7 Blades, $1.00

A Blade for every day in the week, and every blade guaranteed perfect or exchanged for a new one.

No honing or stropping. When the seven blades are dull (and each one will shave the ordinary beard seven to ten times), send them together with 25c to the makers and receive a new and sharp set by return mail, prepaid.

Sold in Janesville by

MCCUE & BUSS,

The Druggists.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

Want ads bring good results.

4TH OF JULY
LAND EXCURSION TO DAKOTA

For the Benefit of the Land Seeker.

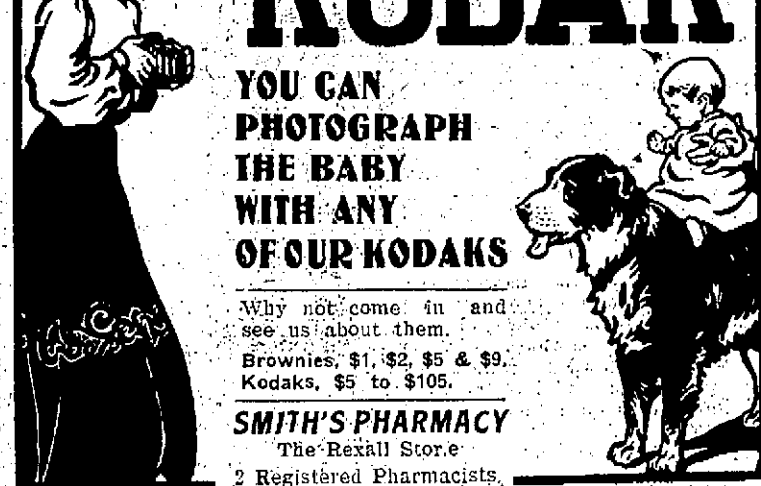

We leave here on the 3d, spend the 4th in St. Paul and Minneapolis, seeing the twin cities in the electric sight-seeing cars. We want a few more to make up an interesting excursion party. We intend to show you the great possibilities of Dakota, the greatest opportunity to buy the choicest selected land in the state at a surprising price. See the crops in their prime. This is the best opportunity of your life time to see and get a piece of this land that will make you the finest home or investment on earth.

Purchasers' car fare refunded; make your arrangements with us as soon as possible.

Apply to

F. L. STEVENS,

Lovejoy Block, Janesville. New Phone, 585.

KODAK

YOU CAN PHOTOGRAPH THE BABY WITH ANY OF OUR KODAKS

Why not come in and see us about them?

Brownies, $1, $2, $5 & $9.

Kodaks, $5 to $105.

SMITH'S PHARMACY

The Rexall Store

2 Registered Pharmacists.

A Lawyer's Answer.

On one occasion when ex-Congressman John R. Thayer was counsel for the defense in the central district court he was cross-examining witness in the case of the Worcester and Suburban Street railway ticket forgery. The witness, who was a conductor on the road, had been arrested for forging tickets.

A man named Jensen was employed in the car barn of the road. He was not particularly bright, either in appearance or speech, and the conductor had attempted to show that Jensen was the originator of the scheme for forging the tickets.

Thayer asked the witness, by way of ridicule, if he did not believe Jensen showed lack of capacity for putting up such a job on the road, and closed his cross-examination by saying: "Doesn't he look like a bright man?"

The conductor's reply: "He must be, he hired a bright lawyer."

Thayer did not pursue the examination further.—Boston Herald.

100 LATE TO CLASSIFY

It cannot injure, may do wondrous good. For wrinkles, blemishes, skin troubles use Satin Skin Cream. 25c.

He Gave Him a Stone.

A practical joker of New York city tells this story upon himself and declares that the experience "owed him."

On my arrival at San Francisco, as a joke I sent to a friend of mine at home, well known for his aversion to spending money, a telegram, with charges to collect, reading, "I am perfectly well."

The information evidently was gratifying to him, for about a week after sending the telegram an express package was delivered at my room, on which I paid $4 for charges. Upon opening the package I found a large New York street paving block, on which was pasted a card which read: "This is the weight your recent telegram lifted from my heart."

Archie Reid & Co.

DRY GOODS, CLOAKS, MILLINERY

DRY GOODS, CLOAKS, MILLINERY

Mrs. JENNIE MURRAY

of Evansville, and her daughter drove 15 miles to Janesville today to secure the services of Dr. P. T. Richards, who they had heard could extract teeth PAINLESSLY.

Mrs. Murray, in speaking to her son, said, "I've had them all out (nine in number) and they DIDN'T HURT A BIT."

He could hardly believe it, but she soberly affirmed that Dr. Richards did the best of any dentist she ever had work for her.

The daughter, also, had him work for her and she also said that she DIDN'T HURT.

As the old settler said, "Where there's smoke there must be some fire."

Try him yourself for your next dentistry.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Cleaners & Dyers

Ladies Waists, fine Dresses and Spring Jackets Chemically Dry Cleaned.

Janesville Steam Dye House
Carl F. Brockhaus, Prop.
59 East Milwaukee St.

"Star Crown"

CIGAR.
10c straight; 3 for 25c; and 5c straight.

An additional brand to meet the demands of everybody.

J. STERN.

WE SERVE ALL

Kinds of Soft Drinks
LEFFINGWELL'S, N. Main Street

"The Ideal" Barber Shop

We're still at work repairing, but can give you prompt and efficient service at the same time.

MERT J. BRENNAN, PROP.

BUY A WATCH THAT WILL RUN

and that will not have to spend most of its time in the repair shop. You may not have that kind now, but you can, if you'll let us fit you out. Every watch sold is guaranteed.

KOEBELIN'S
Jewelry and Music House,
Hayes Block.

First National Bank

Capital $125,000
Surplus & Profits $100,000

Directors: L. B. CARLE, H. RICHARDSON, S. C. COBB, THOS. O. HOWE, G. H. RUSSELL, A. P. LOVISON, J. G. RICHARDSON

Three per cent interest paid in Savings Department which opens July 2d.

Three per cent paid on Certificates of Deposit.

The best security and a liberal rate of interest for your savings.

Is It Right to Expose your children to contagion through the use of impure milk, when you can avoid this by using

Pasteurized Milk

OUR MILK is from healthy dairies— aerated, pasteurized and delivered in sterilized bottles.

JANESVILLE PURE MILK CO.
Gridley & Craft, Props.

THE COMMISSION HEAR WITNESSES

ALLEGED BEATING OF EUNSON IS BEING INVESTIGATED.

WIDE DIVERGENCE SHOWN

Testimony Given Varies As to Important Details of Charges Brought.

Before George McKee, Dr. E. D. Roberts, and J. P. Sweeney of the fire and police commission the investigation into the conduct of Night Patrolman Robert Bear, in the arrest of one Charles Eunson, on the night of June 15 was commenced this afternoon. Witnesses were examined by City Attorney H. L. Maxfield, and cross-examined by Atty. Fred Burpee, who represented Officer Bear. There was wide divergence of statements with reference to the number of blows struck with the policeman's club and as to whether he had Eunson by the hair or shoulders with one or two hands. When he was alleged to have been beating the man's head on the pavement, Night Watchman Geo. Palmer testified that Eunson swung as if to strike Bear with his umbrella. He did not think this movement justified the blow, however. Eunson, he said, walked alright to the lock-up and his mind seemed to be clear. Charles Curtis heard Eunson say: "You couldn't take me if you didn't have that club." He was quite sure that the man was not resisting in any way except holding back. Ronald Alris, employed in Baker's drug store, ex-Alderman William Murray, Edward Amerphill, and others testified. At 3:30 the witnesses for the defense had not yet been called.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

RISKED LIFE BUT DID NOT MISS A TRAIN AT THAT Narrow Escape of David Watt While Hanging To Outside Of The Vestibule.

David Watt had a narrow escape from death on Friday morning at Orfordville while en route for the lead and zinc regions. Stepping off the train at Orfordville, Mr. Watt was indulging a few jokes at the expense of H. A. Taylor when his train started from the depot before he noticed it. As the last car swung by Mr. Watt caught the rear platform only to find it vestibuled. Digging his toes onto the step underneath the platform and grasping the side arms of the car, he made himself as small as possible until the yard limits were passed and danger of being swept off by the sign post-car was over. Then reaching around he rapped on a window of the car attracting the attention of a lady passenger who noticed the brakeman who released him from his predicament. In speaking of the happening Mr. Watt said Sunday, "I did not anticipate any great danger and was not outside the car long enough to get tired but what did make me mad was when Conductor Leahy came through and tried to collect a dollar extra from me claiming I had been riding on the observation car."

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

'BOOK OF LIFE'; SERMON SUBJECT

REV. R. C. DENISON GIVES A INTERESTING LECTURE.

NOT A MERE MACHINE

Congregational Church Pastor Preaches on Subject of Much Importance.

"The Book of Life" was the subject chosen by Rev. Denison in his sermon yesterday morning at the Congregational church and proved to be a few thoughts on what real success and endeavor consists of. He spoke of life as not a machine, that will work out in the same way no matter what we do, as the people of the Orient thought, but a machine that will work as it is guided. Rev. Denison's thoughts and points were in substance as follows: Men of this day and age still love the old stories of the Romans and the Norsemen, because they are stories of men of action. They love them because of their closeness to life itself, and not to logic. There is still that feeling among us that those who work and conquer shall lead. Books and stories of the day are those of action. There are some people who think there is something great in the writing of books themselves, but the great underlying principle is the action and the writer himself must have the action that put into the book makes it what it is. In a public library the books of theory are the ones put high up on the shelves and the ones which are used comparatively, and in comparison to the books containing the real action and strife for accomplishment whatever he undertakes. Life is but a strife between good and evil; toil and pleasure, and hard work must be done in overgiving one to accomplish the other. The day of war is nearly over; this is a day of thought, ideals and action, of a different kind than those of our ancestors. We should not take what the world is willing to offer us, but we must struggle all the while to accomplish that for what we wish and resist "the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune." We should not measure success by dollars as seems to be the thought by the greater majority today, but by the good which we have done in the help of others that their life may be better. Men have advanced only by strife and conflict and the church as it is today is only the fruit of a long siege of trouble. Struggle and bloodshed have made the world what it is today. A Christian should struggle and not drift with the current, to live is but to strive. "It is not in the amount of our belief, but in how hard we believe what we believe." Life is love and to get one we must have the other. We can live by helping someone else and making their life happier for our existence. Your life may never be written in a hall of fame, nor on a large monument, but we can write it in the heart of some one who we have made our friend for life. What is that, that pleads for love, for action, for ambition? It is God. Do not do your duty because of the money that you may get that will bring you pleasure, but do it for love of duty. No time can be lost in our preparation, for we must live while we live and life is like the weaver's shuttle in its flight.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

Office over Hall & Sayles' Jewelry Store, West Milwaukee street.

A FOOL FOR LOVE

By FRANCIS LYNDE

(AUTHOR OF "THE GRAFTERS," ETC.)

(Copyright, 1905, by J. P. Lippincott Co.)

CHAPTER V.

Virginia took the first step in the perilous path of the strategist when she handed the incendiary telegram back to Jastrow.

"Poor Mr. Winton!" she said, with the real sympathy in the words made most obviously perfunctory by the tone. "What a world of possibilities there is in that word 'arrange.' Tell me more about it, Mr. Jastrow. How will they 'arrange' it?"

"Winton's nearest? Nothing easier in a tough mining camp like Carbonate. I should say."

"Yes, but how?"

"I can't prophesy how Grafton will go about it, but I know what I should do."

Virginia's smile was irresistible, but there was a look in the deepest depth of the brown eyes that was sifting Mr. Arthur Jastrow to the innermost sand heap of his desert nature.

"How would you do it, Mr. Napoleon Jastrow?" she asked, giving him the exact fillip on the side of gratified vanity.

"Oh, I'd fix him. He is in a frame of mind right now; and by the time the lawyers are through drilling him in the trespass affair, he'll be just spoiling for a row with somebody."

"Do you think so? Oh, how delicious! And then what?"

"Then I'd hire some plug-ugly to stamper up against him and pick a quarrel with him. He'd go the rest—and land in the lockup."

Those who know her best said it was a warning to be heeded in Miss Virginia Carteret when her eyes were downcast and her voice sank to its softest cadence.

"Why, certainly, how simple!" she said, taking her cousin's arm again; and the secretary went in to set the wires at work in Winton's affair.

Now Miss Carteret was a woman in every fiber of her, but among her gifts she might have counted some that were, to say the least, super-feminine. One of these was a measure of discretion—which would have been fairly creditable in a past master of diplomacy.

So, while the sympathetic part of her was crying out for a chance to talk Winton's threatened danger over with some one, she lent herself outwardly to the Reverend Billy's mood, which was one of scenic enthusiasm, "this without prejudice to a growing determination to intervene in behalf of fair play for Winton if she could find a way."

But the way obstinately refused to discover itself. The simple thing to do would be to appeal to her uncle's sense of justice. It was not like him to fight with ignoble weapons, she thought, and a justful word in season might make him recall the order to the superintendent. But she could not make the appeal without betraying Jastrow. She knew well enough that the secretary had no right to show her the telegrams; knew also that Mr. Somerville Darragh's first word would be a demand to know how she had learned the company's business secrets. Regarding Jastrow as little as a high-bred young woman to whom sentiment is as the breath of life can regard a man who is quite devoid of it, she was still far enough from the thought of effecting him.

To this expedient there was an unhelpful alternative: namely, the sending, by the Reverend Billy, or, in the last resort, by herself, of a warning message to Winton. But there were obstacles seemingly insuperable. She had not the faintest notion of how such a warning should be addressed; and again, the operator at Argentine was a Colorado & Grand River employee, doubtless loyal to his salt, in which case the warning message would never get beyond his waste basket.

"Getting too chilly for you out here?"—want to go in?" asked the Reverend Billy, when the scenic enthusiasm began to outwear itself.

"No, but I am tired of the son-of-a-gun part of it—ten steps and a turn," she confessed. "Can't we walk on the track a little way?"

Calvert saw no reason why they might not, and accordingly helped her over to the snow-enrusted path between the rails.

"We can trot down and have a look at their construction camp, if you like," he suggested, and thitherward they went.

There was not much to see, after all, as the Reverend Billy remarked when they had reached a coign of vantage below the curve. A string-of-use-worn bunk cars; a "dinky" caboose serving as the home on wheels of the chief of construction and his assistant; a crooked sliding with a gang of dark-skinned laborers at work unloading a car of steel. These in the immediate foreground; and a little way apart, perched high enough on the steep slope of the mountain side to be out of the camp turmoil, a small structure, half plank and half canvas—to wit, the end-of-track telegraph office.

It was Virginia who first marked the boxed-up tent standing on the slope.

"What do you suppose that little house-tent is for?" she asked.

"I don't know," said Calvert. Then he saw the wires and ventured a guess which hit the mark.

"I didn't suppose they would have a telegraph office," she commented, with hope rising again.

"Oh, yes, they'd have to have a wire, one of their own. Under the circumstances they could hardly use ours."

"No," she rejoined, absently. She was scanning the group of steel handlers in the hope that a young man in a billy-cock hat and with a cigarette between his lips would shortly reveal himself.

She found him after a time and turned quickly to her cousin.

"There is Mr. Adams down there by the engine. Do you think he would come over and speak to us if he knew we were here?"

"The Reverend Billy's smile was of honest admiration.

"How could you doubt it? Wait here a minute and I'll call him for you."

He was gone before she could reply—across the ice bridge spanning one of the pools, and up the rough, frozen embankment of the new line. There were armed guards here, too, as well as at the front, and one of them halted him at the picket line. But Adams saw and recognized him, and presently the two were crossing to where Virginia stood waiting.

"What a little world we live in, Miss Virginia! Who would have thought of meeting you here?" said the technologist, taking her hand at the precise elevation prescribed by good form—Boston good form.

"The shock is mutual," she laughed. "I must say that you and Mr. Winton have chosen a highly unconventional environment for your sketching field."

"I'm down," he admitted, cheerfully: "please don't trample on me. But really, it wasn't all for Jack. Does things with a pencil—other things besides maps and working profiles, I mean. Won't you come over and let me do the honors of the studio?"

With a grandiloquent arm-sweep meant to include the construction camp in general and the "dinky" caboose in particular.

It was the invitation she would have angled for; but she was too wise to assent too readily.

"Oh, ho; I think we mustn't. I'm afraid Mr. Winton might not like it."

"Not like it? If you'll come, he'll never forgive himself for not being here to shoot up the camp for you in person. He is away, you know, gone to Carbonate for the day."

"Ought we to go, Cousin Billy?" she asked, shiffling; not the decision, but the responsibility for it, to broader shoulders.

"Why not, if you care to?" said the athlete, to whom right-of-way fights were mere matters of business in no wise conflicting with the social amellations.

Virginia hesitated. There was a thing to be said to Mr. Adams, and that without delay; but how could she say it with her cousin standing by, to make an impossible trio out of any attempted due confidential? A will-forgiveness to see that Winton had felt play need not carry with it an open desertion to the enemy. She must not forget to be loyal to her salt; and, besides, Mr. Somerville Darragh's righteous indignation was not lightly to be ignored.

But the upshot of the hesitant pause was a decision to brave the consequences—all of them; so she took Calvert's arm for the slippery crossing of the ice bridge.

Once on his own domain, Adams did the honors of the camp as thoroughly and conscientiously as if the hour held no care, heavier than the entertainment of Miss Virginia Carteret, or him, what piece of girlish frivolity he was expected to sign and seal to his chief. Meanwhile she went on writing.

"I am to tell you not to get into any fresh trouble—not to let anyone else get you into trouble; by which I infer she means that some attempt will be made to keep you from returning on the evening train."

"There, can you send all that?" she asked, sweetly, giving the pad to the technologist.

Adams read the first part of the letter-length telegram with inward groanings, but the generous purpose of it struck him like a whip blow when he came to the thinly veiled warning.

Also it shamed him for his unworthy judgment of Virginia.

"I thank you very heartily, Miss Carteret," he said, humbly. "It shall be sent word for word." Then, for the Reverend William's benefit, "Winton deserves all sorts of a snubbing for taking liberties with your portrait. I'll show you some of Jack's sketches," he went on, finding a portfolio and opening it upon the drawing board.

"Are you quite sure Mr. Winton won't mind?" she asked.

"Mind? He'd give a month's pay to be here to show them himself. He is peacock vain of his one small accomplishment, Winton is—bores me to death with it sometimes."

"Really?" was the mocking rejoinder, and they began to look at the sketches.

They were heads, most of them, impressionistic studies in pencil or pastel, with now and then a pen-and-ink bearing evidence of more painstaking after-work. They were made on bits of map paper, the backs of old letters, and not a few on leaves torn from an engineer's note book.

"They don't count for much in an artistic way," said Adams, with the brutal frankness of a friendly critic, but they will serve to show you that I wasn't all kinds of an embroiderer when I was telling you about Winton's proclivities the other day."

"I shouldn't apologize for that, if I were you," she retorted. "It is well past apology, don't you think?" And then: "What is this one?"

"They had come to the last of the sketches, which was a rude map. It was penciled on the leaf of a memorandum, and Adams recognized it as the outline Winton had made and used in explaining the right-of-way entanglement."

"It is a map," he said, "one that Jack drew day before yesterday when he was trying to make me understand the situation up here. I wonder why he kept it? Is there anything on the other side?"

She turned the leaf, and they both went speechless for the moment. The reverse of the scrap of cross-ruled paper held a very fair likeness of a face which Virginia's mirror had oftener portrayed; a sketch seeping forth in a few vigorous strokes of the pencil the impressionist's ideal of the "goodness from the face."

"By Jove," exclaimed Adams, when he could find the word for his surprise. Then he tried to turn it off lightly. "There is a good bit more of the artist in Jack than I have been giving him credit for. Don't you know, he must have got the notion for that between two half-seconds—when you recognized me on the platform at Kansas City. It's wonderful!"

"So very wonderful that I think I shall keep it," she rejoined, not without a touch of austerity. Then she added: "Mr. Winton will probably never miss it. If he does, you will have to explain the best way you can."

"Are you quite sure Mr. Winton won't mind?" she asked.

"Mind? He'd give a month's pay to be here to show them himself. He is peacock vain of his one small accomplishment, Winton is—bores me to death with it sometimes."

"Really?" was the mocking rejoinder, and they began to look at the sketches.

They were heads, most of them, impressionistic studies in pencil or pastel, with now and then a pen-and-ink bearing evidence of more painstaking after-work. They were made on bits of map paper, the backs of old letters, and not a few on leaves torn from an engineer's note book.

"They don't count for much in an artistic way," said Adams, with the brutal frankness of a friendly critic, but they will serve to show you that I wasn't all kinds of an embroiderer when I was telling you about Winton's proclivities the other day."

"I shouldn't apologize for that, if I were you," she retorted. "It is well past apology, don't you think?" And then: "What is this one?"

"They had come to the last of the sketches, which was a rude map. It was penciled on the leaf of a memorandum, and Adams recognized it as the outline Winton had made and used in explaining the right-of-way entanglement."

"It is a map," he said, "one that Jack drew day before yesterday when he was trying to make me understand the situation up here. I wonder why he kept it? Is there anything on the other side?"

She turned the leaf, and they both went speechless for the moment. The reverse of the scrap of cross-ruled paper held a very fair likeness of a face which Virginia's mirror had oftener portrayed; a sketch seeping forth in a few vigorous strokes of the pencil the impressionist's ideal of the "goodness from the face."

"By Jove," exclaimed Adams, when he could find the word for his surprise. Then he tried to turn it off lightly. "There is a good bit more of the artist in Jack than I have been giving him credit for. Don't you know, he must have got the notion for that between two half-seconds—when you recognized me on the platform at Kansas City. It's wonderful!"

"So very wonderful that I think I shall keep it," she rejoined, not without a touch of austerity. Then she added: "Mr. Winton will probably never miss it. If he does, you will have to explain the best way you can."

And Adams could only say "By Jove!" again, and busy himself with pouring the tea which Ah Foo had brought in.

In the nature of things the tea-drinking in the stuffy "dinky" drawing-room was not prolonged. Time was flying. Virginia's errand of mercy was not yet accomplished, and Aunt Martha in her capacity of anxious chaperon was not to be forgotten.

Also, Miss Carteret had a feeling that under his well-bred exterior Mr. Morton P. Adams was chafing like any barbarian industry captain at this unwarrantable intrusion and interruption.

So presently they all fortified into the sun-bright, snow-blinding, out-of-door world, and Virginia gathered up her courage and took her dilemma by the horns.

"I believe I have seen everything now except that tent-place up there," she asserted, groping purposefully for her opening.

Adams called up another smile of acquiescence. "That is our telegraph office. Would you care to see it?" The technologist was of those who shrink all or shrink nothing.

"I don't know why I should care to, but I do," she replied, with charming and childlike willfulness, so the three of them trudged up the slippery path to the operator's den on the slope.

Not to evade his hospitable duty in any part, Adams explained the use and need of a "front" wire, and Miss Carteret was properly interested.

"How convenient!" she commented. "And you can come up here and talk to anybody you like—just as if it were a telephone?"

"To anyone in the company's service," amended Adams. "It is not a commercial wire."

"Then let us send a message to Mr. Winton," she suggested, playing the part of the capricious ingenue to the very upcast of a pair of mischievous eyes. "I'll write it and you may sign it."

Adams stretched his complaisance the necessary additional inch and gave her a pencil and a pad of blanks. She wrote rapidly:

"Miss Carteret has been here admiring your drawings. She took one of them away with her, and I couldn't stop her without being rude. You shouldn't have done it without asking her permission. She says—"

"Oh, dear! I am making it awfully long. Does it cost so much a word?"

"No," said Adams, not without an effort. He was beginning to be distinctly disappointed in Miss Virginia, and was wondering in the inner depths of his mind what piece of girlish frivolity he was expected to sign and seal to his chief. Meanwhile she went on writing.

"I am to tell you not to get into any fresh trouble—not to let anyone else get you into trouble; by which I infer she means that some attempt will be made to keep you from returning on the evening train."

"There, can you send all that?" she asked, sweetly, giving the pad to the technologist.

Adams read the first part of the letter-length telegram with inward groanings, but the generous purpose of it struck him like a whip blow when he came to the thinly veiled warning.

Also it shamed him for his unworthy judgment of Virginia.

"I thank you very heartily, Miss Carteret," he said, humbly. "It shall be sent word for word." Then, for the Reverend William's benefit, "Winton deserves all sorts of a snubbing for taking liberties with your portrait. I'll show you some of Jack's sketches," he went on, finding a portfolio and opening it upon the drawing board.

"Are you quite sure Mr. Winton won't mind?" she asked.

"Mind? He'd give a month's pay to be here to show them himself. He is peacock vain of his one small accomplishment, Winton is—bores me to death with it sometimes."

"Really?" was the mocking rejoinder, and they began to look at the sketches.

They were heads, most of them, impressionistic studies in pencil or pastel, with now and then a pen-and-ink bearing evidence of more painstaking after-work. They were made on bits of map paper, the backs of old letters, and not a few on leaves torn from an engineer's note book.

"They don't count for much in an artistic way," said Adams, with the brutal frankness of a friendly critic, but they will serve to show you that I wasn't all kinds of an embroiderer when I was telling you about Winton's proclivities the other day."

"I shouldn't apologize for that, if I were you," she retorted. "It is well past apology, don't you think?" And then: "What is this one?"

"They had come to the last of the sketches, which was a rude map. It was penciled on the leaf of a memorandum, and Adams recognized it as the outline Winton had made and used in explaining the right-of-way entanglement."

When You Drink

Wiener
BLATZ-MILWAUKEE

JUST note, if you please, that most convincing hop fragrance—and malt body. Then observe its brilliancy—whether bottled or from the keg. These are uniform characteristics which bespeak for Blatz Beers their unquestioned honesty. These beers represent the very top-most achievement in the art of brewing—Blatz own process. Step in where you see Blatz signs. Tell the man to "draw" you a glass of Blatz Wiener Beer—or any other Blatz brand. Be as critical as you like. "Your beer" will be "Blatz" ever after. Cultivate the "Blatz sign habit."

Bottled Blatz is available, or should be, in most first-class places. Ask for Blatz Wiener Beer.

Tel. Rock Co. 75 or 4763 Wisconsin, or drop a line to Office of Janesville Branch, 254 Wall St., Janesville, Wis., for a case delivered home.

The celebrated brands—Wiener, Private Stock, Muenchener and Export—are Brewed Exclusively by VAL BLATZ BREWING CO., MILWAUKEE

News For Excursionists

Very Low Excursion Rates to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo. Via the North-Western Line will be in effect from all stations, July 10 to 15, inclusive, with favorable return limits, on account of Grand Lodge B. P. O. E. Two fast trains through to Colorado daily, only one night. For full information apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

Half Rates to Democratic State Convention at Milwaukee, Wis. Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets will be sold at one fare for round trip, June 26 and 27, limited to return until June 30, inclusive. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

Special Excursion Rates to Colorado, Utah and the Black Hills. Via the North-Western Line. Beginning June 1st excursion tickets will be sold daily to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City, Hot Springs, Deadwood, Lead and Custer, S. D., etc., good to return until October 31. Specially low rate round trip tickets to these and other points, with favorable return limits, will be sold the first and third Tuesday of each month until September 18, inclusive. A splendid opportunity is offered for an enjoyable vacation trip. Several fine trains via the North-Western Line daily. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

Very Low Rates to San Francisco and Los Angeles and Return. $22.50 from Janesville via the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Ry. June 25 to July 7, inclusive. Return limit September 15th. For details apply to the ticket agent.

Very Low Rates to Denver, Colo., M. & St. P. Ry. $25.00 to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo from Janesville, July 10 to 15, inclusive, account of annual meeting B. P. O. E. at Denver. Return limit Aug. 20. Summer tourist tickets on sale daily at $28.40. Return limit Oct. 31. Special home-seekers' excursion tickets on sale the first and third Tuesday of each month until November, inclusive, at $25.00. Return limit 21 days. Call on the C. M. & St. P. ticket agent for further information.

Very Low Excursion Rates to Portland, Tacoma and other North Pacific and British Columbia Points. Via the North-Western Line, will be in effect from all stations June 18 to 22, inclusive, with favorable return limits, on account of Hotel Men's Mutual Benefit Association, to be held at Portland, Ore. Fast trains through to the Coast daily. "The Overland Limited," electric lighted throughout, less than three days Chicago to Portland. Another fast daily train is "The Chicago-Portland Special," with drawing room and tourist sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars and dining cars. For itineraries and full information apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

Very Low Rates to San Francisco and Los Angeles and Return. $22.50 from Janesville via the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Ry. June 25 to July 7, inclusive. Return limit September 15th. For details apply to the ticket agent.

Very Low Rates to Omaha, Neb. Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets will be sold July 10 to 15, inclusive, with favorable return limits, on account of B. Y. P. U. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

Low Rates to La Crosse, Wis. Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets will be sold July 4, 5, 6 and 7, limited to return until July 9, inclusive, on account of Biennial Festival, Northwestern Scandinavian Singers' association. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

Fourth of July Excursion Rates. Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets will be sold at reduced rates July 3 and 4, good returning until July 6th, inclusive, to all points where one-way rate is $7.50 or less, on the North-Western Line, including C. St. P. M. & O. Ry., to points on Union Pacific R. R. east of and including Cheyenne, Wyo., and La Salle, Colo., points on Colorado & Southern, Orin Junction to Cheyenne, inclusive, also to points on D. S. & A. Ry., and Mineral Range R. R. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

New Homes in the West. Over a million acres of land will be thrown open to settlement on the Shoshone Indian Reservation August 15, 1906. These lands are reached by the direct route of the Chicago & North-Western Ry from Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, and other points in the Mississippi Valley. Send two cents in stamps for pamphlets, maps and full particulars to W. B. Kniskern, P. T. M. C. & N. W. Ry. Co., Chicago.

SPECIAL HOMESEEKERS' EXCURSIONS. Via Missouri Pacific Railway and Iron Mountain Route. Tickets on sale first and third Tuesday in each month, May to November, 1906, inclusive, to Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Arkansas, Indian Territory, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas, and republic of Mexico. For details address L. D. Knowles, General Agent, Milwaukee, Wis.

"MINNESOTA LAKES" An attractive summer booklet, handsomely illustrated and bound in art covers, telling about the summer recreation, pleasures and opportunities in the Lake Park region of Minnesota. It's just the book for those who love fishing and hunting, boating and summer recreation at delightful lakes. It is sent free on request to A. M. Cleland, General Passenger Agent, Northern Pacific Railway, St. Paul, Minn.

"Wonderland 1906" The annual publication of the passenger department of the Northern Pacific railway, tells about Yellowstone National Park, "Wonderland of the World," the Columbia river region, the great Puget Sound country, and Alaska. Filled with valuable information for those who plan summer journeys. Sent for six cents postage. Address A. M. Cleland, General Passenger Agent, Northern Pacific Railway, St. Paul, Minn.

How many hours to market—the tax on Church-Chimes. Included in this year's budget of the town council of Santa Cruz, Tenerife, was a tax on the ringing of church bells, at the rate of 20 cents a chime, but the civil governor vetoed the scheme.

To Make Sure. Miss Hascog—Er—before announcing her engagement, count, I—er—I think perhaps it would be more satisfactory if you had your—er—title guaranteed.—Los Angeles Herald.

American Books in Canada. American literature is found in every Canadian home, writes Consul Seyfert from Stratford. The village and city libraries are filled with American books and American periodicals predominate.

$75 to the Pacific Coast and Return From Chicago—Corresponding Low Round-Trip Rates From Other Points.

Via the Chicago, Union Pacific & North-Western Line daily, June 1 to Sept. 30, to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, Seattle and Tacoma and other Pacific Coast points. Very low rates to Helena, Butte, Spokane, Ogden and Salt Lake City. Daily and personally conducted excursions in Pullman tourist sleeping cars to San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland, through without change. Double berth only $7.00 from Chicago and $5.75 from Omaha. Choice of routes. For rates, tickets, etc., apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

How many hours to market—the tax on Church-Chimes. Included in this year's budget of the town council of Santa Cruz, Tenerife, was a tax on the ringing of church bells, at the rate of 20 cents a chime, but the civil governor vetoed the scheme.

To Make Sure. Miss Hascog—Er—before announcing her engagement, count, I—er—I think perhaps it would be more satisfactory if you had your—er—title guaranteed.—Los Angeles Herald.

American Books in Canada. American literature is found in every Canadian home, writes Consul Seyfert from Stratford. The village and city libraries are filled with American books and American periodicals predominate.

$75 to the Pacific Coast and Return From Chicago—Corresponding Low Round-Trip Rates From Other Points.

Via the Chicago, Union Pacific & North-Western Line daily, June 1 to Sept. 30, to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland, Seattle and Tacoma and other Pacific Coast points. Very low rates to Helena, Butte, Spokane, Ogden and Salt Lake City. Daily and personally conducted excursions in Pullman tourist sleeping cars to San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland, through without change. Double berth only $7.00 from Chicago and $5.75 from Omaha. Choice of routes. For rates, tickets, etc., apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

How many hours to market—the

TO CALIFORNIA

Home-seekers' Excursion to the North-West, West and Southwest. Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets at greatly reduced rates are on sale to the territory indicated above. Standard and Tourist Sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars and "The Best of Everything." For dates of sale and full particulars, apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry. Write for printed map and full details. Pass. Agent, 97 Adams St., Chicago, Ill. F. H. Triestram, Asst. Gen.

Low Rates to San Francisco and Los Angeles. Via the North-Western Line. An excursion rate of one first-class limited fare, plus $2.00 for round trip, will be in effect from all stations June 25 to July 7, inclusive, with favorable return limits. Three fast trains through to California daily. "The Overland Limited," electric lighted throughout, less than three days to San Francisco. "The Los Angeles Limited," electric lighted throughout, via the new Salt Lake route to Los Angeles, with drawing room and tourist sleeping cars. Another fast daily train is "The China & Japan Fast Mail," with drawing room and tourist sleeping cars to San Francisco and Los Angeles. For itineraries and full information apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

Very Low Rates to San Francisco and Los Angeles and Return. $22.50 from Janesville via the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Ry. June 25 to July 7, inclusive. Return limit September 15th. For details apply to the ticket agent.

Very Low Rates to Omaha, Neb. Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets will be sold July 10 to 15, inclusive, with favorable return limits, on account of B. Y. P. U. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

Low Rates to La Crosse, Wis. Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets will be sold July 4, 5, 6 and 7, limited to return until July 9, inclusive, on account of Biennial Festival, Northwestern Scandinavian Singers' association. Apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

<

AMERICANS VISIT NORWEGIAN RULER

KING HAARON AND QUEEN MAUD RECEIVE PILGRIMS.

AROUSES MUTUAL FEALTY

Knowledge That He Has Friendship and Support of Former Subjects in United States Highly Prized by Monarch.

Trondheim, June 25.—The plans for receiving the Norwegian-American delegations, having been changed, King Haakon and Queen Maud received the several delegations combined at 2:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The entire court was present. The pilgrims from the United States spent 25 minutes with the king and queen.

Dr. Daal, of Chicago, first read an address congratulating King Haakon on his accession to the throne and expressing assurances of the affection of Norwegians in America for Norway. He then handed the king the address, engrossed on parchment.

King Haakon thanked the delegations, saying he was fully aware of the value to Norway of the moral support of Norwegians in America, and that it helped him when entering upon the duties of his office to know that he had their friendship and moral support. He also expressed his gratification for the kindly sentiment of Americans.

Portfolio from Americans.
F. G. Gade, Norway's vice consul at Chicago, then presented King Haakon with a portfolio, saying that this greeting also was from America and particularly from Norwegian musicians, artists and poets there. He reminded the king that the portfolio contained a poem written by Rev. Mr. Bothne and set to music by Alfred Paulson, which was sung at a demonstration Saturday night. Mr. Gade then presented Odla Renning, of Milwaukee, composer of the coronation hymn, which also was embodied in the portfolio. King Haakon shook hands with Mr. Renning and thanked him for his work.

In replying to Mr. Gade, the king expressed his warmest thanks for the portfolio and charged him to deliver a message of thanks to all who assisted in preparing or contributing to it. The king and queen then shook hands with the entire party and thanked the members for making the long journey from the United States to assist in the coronation.

Thousands of school children paraded before the palace at noon and were reviewed by King Haakon, Queen Maud and Crown Prince Olaf. King Haakon, in addressing the children, expressed the appreciation of himself, his wife and his son and commended his son to them. He trusted that he and the people always would enjoy mutual confidence and work together in the future for the good of Norway. He led the children in cheering for Norway and asked them to sing the national anthem, which he also led.

Toast to France.
Admiral Bayle and the French embassy to the coronation gave a reception Sunday afternoon on board the cruiser Aube. All the embassies, the members of the cabinet and officers of the international fleet and many persons of prominence were present. Premier Micholens proposed a toast to France, which was drunk enthusiastically, and Admiral Bayle thanked the premier on behalf of the French people.

A state dinner and ball were given Sunday night by the municipality of Trondheim in honor of the king and queen and foreign princes. There were present members of the diplomatic corps and a brilliant assembly of 900 persons. The affair passed off successfully. Charles H. Ambassadors had a prominent place at the dinner next the prince. The president of the municipality addressed King Haakon, expressing the best wishes of himself and his fellow officials and the king, answered cordially expressing his thanks for the splendid reception given him in this historic city.

MANY SUDANESE ARE SLAIN

Punitive Expedition Accomplishes Its Purpose in Avenging Attack on Garrison at Talodi.

Cairo, June 25.—Three hundred and fifty Sudanese were killed, and 100 captured by the punitive expedition sent from El-Obeid to relieve the garrison at Talodi, which was attacked by native tribesmen early in June, resulting in the loss of 40 Egyptians killed. No losses were sustained by the expedition.

It is supposed the attack on the garrison at Talodi was due to the resentment of the tribesmen at the establishment of a government post in their midst.

Charged with Murdering Two.
Connellsville, Pa., June 25.—Michael Comatz, a Slav, has been arrested on the charge of murdering Thomas Bosley and Robert Collins, Uniontown bricklayers, in a quarrel Saturday night. Comatz is said to have confessed.

Not a Cudahy Concern.
Kansas City, Mo., June 25.—J. P. Cudahy, of the Cudahy Packing company, of this city, said that the Louisville Packing company, which closed down Saturday night, is not a branch of the Cudahy Packing company.

J. P. Cudahy at Kansas City last night said that the Louisville Packing company, which closed down Saturday night, is not a branch of the Cudahy Packing company.

CONDENSED SPECIALS

Fully 2,000 Turners attended the annual turnfest of the Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska division at Leavenworth, Kan.

Col. James Regan, of the Ninth United States Infantry, was found dead in bed at Manila. Death was caused by heart failure.

Through the overturning of a canoe on Lake Memphremagog, Vermont, Fred S. Paquin and wife, and sister and George Dally were drowned.

Miss Lota Allsworth, amateur balloonist, making ascensions at Paraclete, and received, internal injuries. Mylius Erichsen, head-of-the-expedition which will attempt to explore the northeastern coast of Greenland, expects to return in the autumn of 1906.

The home mission board of the Southern Baptist church has appointed Dr. W. W. Hamilton, of Nashville, Tenn., general evangelist of that church.

The Lurline is winner of the trans-Pacific yacht race. When the time allowance expired neither the La Paloma nor the Anemone had been sighted.

The inspector general of police having given the requisite permission, a building at Mexico City was raided and discovered to be a convent existing in violation of the laws of reform.

Thirty or 40 men had a miraculous escape from being blown to atoms when the powder house at Harris Line quarry, ten miles from Helena, Mont., was exploded by some person unknown.

Count Witte has telegraphed Emperor Nicholas that the Bialystok massacre, for which he holds the ministry responsible, has completely neutralized his efforts to conciliate foreign opinion.

Attorney General Edwin G. Eastman received from Gov. McLane a letter calling his attention officially to the opening of the new race track at Salem, N. H., and requesting him to see that the laws of New Hampshire against betting are not violated.

The London county council's health committee recommends that the council seek parliamentary powers to enable it to establish food inspection stations and public slaughter houses in London, and to provide for the inspection of all food entering London.

Besides declaring that no further entries shall be accepted from the Yesper Boat club, of Philadelphia, the resolution of the Henly stewards declared that no entry comprising any member of the Yesper club's crew of 1905 should be accepted in the future.

MRS. KAUFMANN GIVES BOND

Alleged Slayer of Servant Released from Jail Upon Furnishing Security for Appearance.

St. Louis, S. D., June 25.—Shortly before midnight Saturday, Judge Jones, of the circuit court, approved the $25,000 bond upon which the state supreme court had ordered that Mrs. Kaufmann, accused of the murder of Agnes Polaris, her servant maid, should be released from jail. It was decided, however, that the woman should remain in custody until Monday morning. The excited condition of the public mind has somewhat subsided and no further demonstration against Mrs. Kaufmann is expected. The police guard about the residence, however, will be maintained for the present.

TWO SISTERS MEET DEATH

Alcohol Lamp Explosion on Launch Causes Them to Lean Over Side of Boat and Disappear.

Red Wing, Minn., June 25.—A serious accident occurred here Sunday in which two lives were lost. A launch party left Sunday morning for a trip up the Mississippi. When about 15 miles up the river, an alcohol lamp exploded, causing consternation in the crowd.

Two young girls, Grace and Edith Nettum, sisters, aged 14 and 12, respectively, leaned over the side of the boat during the excitement, lost their balance and fell into the river.

Heroic attempts were made to save them from drowning, but they had sunk, not to reappear.

Narrow Escapes from Death.

Spokane, Wash., June 25.—One of the Howard street bridges over the Spokane river collapsed Sunday shortly after a street car had passed over it. John P. Beem, from Hovey Creek, Wis., was carried down in the wreck, but his clothing caught, suspending him on the brink of the upper falls.

Judge Wheeler May Die.

Springfield, Ill., June 25.—Judge Samuel P. Wheeler, a prominent member of the Illinois bar and one of the trustees of the state normal at Carbondale, is critically ill at his home in this city, and it is feared that he will not recover. He is suffering with heart trouble.

King and Queen Will Sail.

Madrid, June 25.—King Alfonso and Queen Victoria will leave San Sebastian July 3 on board the royal yacht Giralda for the Isle of Wight.

Four Drown from Canoe.

Newport, Vt., June 25.—Four persons were drowned in Lake Memphremagog late Sunday by the overturning of a canoe.

Alleged Workmen Betray Secrets.

Essen, June 25.—Two workmen employed in the Krupp works have been arrested, charged with betraying military secrets.

The $63,000 Presbyterian church at Peru, Ind., was dedicated, free of indebtedness, yesterday by Joseph Powell of Buffalo.

GERMAN EMPEROR HOST TO YANKEES

MR. AND MRS. LONGWORTH ENTERTAINED ON YACHT.

A FINE ELECTRIC DISPLAY

Vessels and Yachts in Kiel Harbor Illuminated with Incandescent Globes, with Stars and Stripes Over Visitors' Room.

Kiel, June 25.—Emperor William, when he was certain of the day on which Mr. and Mrs. Longworth would arrive here, telegraphed to Princess Elitel, Frederick asking if she could not come to Kiel at once so that Mrs. Longworth could be entertained aboard the Hamburg, the emperor's improvised yacht. It is the emperor's rule never to invite women on board his vessels unless the empress or one of the imperial princesses are present.

Empress Augusta Victoria, it is understood, desires to remain near the crown princess, and Princess Henry of Prussia is taking a holiday in Bavaria, and Princess Elitel, Frederick, who also is a prince, had arranged to go on a cruise in the Hamburg with the imperial party, after the regatta, but upon receiving the emperor's telegram she came from Potsdam immediately, arriving here Saturday evening with Prince Elitel, and Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were invited to dine with the emperor Sunday night.

It was quite an American evening. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Longworth, Allison, Howard and George Armour, and Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Mott were present. Princess Elitel was amiable and Emperor William jolly and complimentary to America and Americans.

Witness Electric Display.

After the dinner the emperor and Princess Elitel with their guests and the emperor's staff went on the quarter deck of the Hamburg to witness the illuminations.

The club house, the hotel and other buildings were outlined in electric lights and the 15 battleships, ten cruisers, 12 merchant ships and 100 yachts in the harbor were strung with incandescent globes, while many searchlights playing about made a gorgeous scene.

Just above the room in the hotel occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were the stars and stripes in colored lights.

A great assemblage from Kiel and neighboring towns crowded the water front to witness the illumination.

Mr. and Mrs. Longworth were detained by Emperor William until 11 o'clock. The illumination ended with every warship sending up blazing rockets.

The large class yachts raced again Sunday. Emperor William took with him on board the Meteor Prince Adalbert and his three younger brothers and Commander William L. Howard, Commander Philip W. Dumas, and Capt. Jonquieres naval attaches respectively of the United States, Great Britain and France.

Emperor Host at Luncheon.

He served all of them at luncheon with his own hand, requiring the princess to come to him with their plates. The breeze was light and the emperor said it was not worth while sailing over the course and gave up the race. The yacht Hamburg did the 19 knots under five hours, winning the race.

In the next class G. W. Watjen's Navajo covered the distance in four hours and 45 minutes and beat the Comet, which finished in four hours and 38 minutes and 31 seconds.

Mr. and Mrs. Longworth followed the racers on Allison Armour's steam yacht Utowana. Bands on the excursion steamers played the American national anthem when passing the vessel.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

HAMMOND ELEVATOR CO.

From J. M. Gibson, Broker, 204 Jackson Block, Janesville.

Chicago, June 25, 1906.

Open High Low Close

Wheat..... 83 1/4 83 3/4 82 1/2 82 1/2

July..... 83 1/4 83 3/4 82 1/2 82 1/2

Sept..... 80 1/2 81 1/2 80 1/2 80 1/2

Oct..... 79 1/2 80 1/2 79 1/2 79 1/2

Nov..... 78 1/2 79 1/2 78 1/2 78 1/2

Dec..... 77 1/2 78 1/2 77 1/2 77 1/2

Jan..... 76 1/2 77 1/2 76 1/2 76 1/2

Feb..... 75 1/2 76 1/2 75 1/2 75 1/2

Mar..... 74 1/2 75 1/2 74 1/2 74 1/2

Apr..... 73 1/2 74 1/2 73 1/2 73 1/2

May..... 72 1/2 73 1/2 72 1/2 72 1/2

June..... 71 1/2 72 1/2 71 1/2 71 1/2

July..... 70 1/2 71 1/2 70 1/2 70 1/2

Aug..... 69 1/2 70 1/2 69 1/2 69 1/2

Sept..... 68 1/2 69 1/2 68 1/2 68 1/2

Oct..... 67 1/2 68 1/2 67 1/2 67 1/2

Nov..... 66 1/2 67 1/2 66 1/2 66 1/2

Dec..... 65 1/2 66 1/2 65 1/2 65 1/2

Jan..... 64 1/2 65 1/2 64 1/2 64 1/2

Feb..... 63 1/2 64 1/2 63 1/2 63 1/2

Mar..... 62 1/2 63 1/2 62 1/2 62 1/2

Apr..... 61 1/2 62 1/2 61 1/2 61 1/2

May..... 60 1/2 61 1/2 60 1/2 60 1/2

June..... 59 1/2 60 1/2 59 1/2 59 1/2

July..... 58 1/2 59 1/2 58 1/2 58 1/2

Aug..... 57 1/2 58 1/2 57 1/2 57 1/2

FAVORITE OF PRESIDENT.

Uncle Robert Roosevelt's Visit to White House Informal.

The late Robert Barnwell Roosevelt, uncle of the president, was held in high esteem by the chief executive, who always looked forward to their annual reunions with the greatest of pleasure, says a Washington dispatch to the New York Tribune.

Of late years, on account of the president's manifold duties, which made it well nigh impossible for him to spare the time to go to Sayville, Mr. Roosevelt had done most of the visiting to his nephew. The last time the president went to Sayville was in the summer of 1904, when he rode horseback across Long Island from Oyster Bay in company with his boys. Mr. Roosevelt paid the president a visit last winter, arriving in Washington without troubling to send any advance notice of his coming. The old man never paid much attention to the subject of clothes, preferring to wear what was most comfortable, and so when he arrived at the door of the White House office building one morning the doorkeeper thought him some venerable farmer who was "seeing the sights."

"I'd like to see the president," the old man said to the doorkeeper. "You'll have to see his keeper first," said one of the policemen at the outer door, and Mr. Roosevelt proceeded to make his way known to Major Charles Loeffler. Major Loeffler looked at Mr. Roosevelt over, was not particularly impressed with his appearance, perhaps, and told him that the president was "busy." Then Mr. Roosevelt tried Secretary Loeb's door with equal lack of success. John Hans, the doorkeeper on guard, told him that the secretary was "busy" too.

While Mr. Roosevelt was standing first on one foot and then on the other, in an irresolute way, he was recognized by one of the secret service men who had seen him in Sayville on the occasion of the president's visit. The detective steered him into Mr. Loeb's room in a jiffy, and the secretary hustled him into the president's office in less time than it takes to set this type.

The president happened to be in the cabinet room at that moment and did not see his uncle's entrance. This did not disturb the old man in the least, however, for he threw himself into one of the big leather armchairs, took a long black cigar from his pocket, lit it, crossed his legs and breathed a sigh of relief.

The president spied him in a moment. With a shout of delight, he cried, "Why, Uncle Robert!" leaving the senators and members of congress in the cabinet room. "How are you? I am awfully glad to see you. When did you get in? Why didn't you let me know you were coming?"

As the president fired the volley of questions at him he rushed up and pumped him in a way that would have attracted the attention of any man than Robert B. Roosevelt. The president devoted half an hour to his uncle right then and there before going back to the waiting statesmen.

MRS. CONGER'S BIG PROFIT.

Bought a Rug in China for $80, Sold It For $7,000.

Mrs. E. H. Conger, when her husband was minister to China, purchased a rug in that country for $80 and later sold it in Chicago for $7,000. The story was recently made public by friends of the Congers at Des Moines, Ia., says a dispatch from that city.

Mrs. Conger bought the rug against the protest of her husband shortly before their return from the orient. Mr. Conger declared his wife would get cheated, but Mrs. Conger had her way.

A Chicago man heard of the rug, asked to see it, and after examining it offered $7,000 for it. This offer was accepted. With the money Mrs. Conger has built a home in California, in which the family will permanently reside.

On Love.

"When a fellow loves a gal," said the Paint Rock philosopher, chewing a violet, "he thinks that every other man he knows is his rival for the gal's affections. And when he finds out that this ain't actually the case, why then," chuckled the philosopher, "he's no longer in love."

Buy it in Janesville.

ELECTRICITY

for light is only expensive to people who are wasteful and careless. To you, who are naturally careful, it does not "come high."

It is economical because it can be turned off quickly when not in use. With gas or kerosene there is the temptation to let light burn when not in use, to save the bother of lighting and adjusting.

In some homes the electric light bill amounts to only one dollar per month.

Why not let us tell you more about it.

JANESVILLE ELECTRIC CO.

Both Phones * * * * * On the Bridge

"GOLDEN CROWN"

THE BEST BEER BREWED

Contains no drugs or chemicals. It is properly aged, has a creamy foam, bright and sparkling, sound body, delicious full flavor.

Call for it at all bars. * * * * * Case lots to private trade.

Three Dozen Pints . . . $2.25
Two Dozen Quarts . . . $2.25

Brewed and Bottled by a Home Concern,

THE M. BUOB BREWING CO.

...THE...

"GREAT INTRODUCERS"

In a street crowd, a week ago, four men "rubbed elbows." All were in a hurry--they were not acquainted with each other--they never saw each other before--and, in a few seconds, each had forgotten the existence of the other three. One lived in the northern end of the city--one in the southern, one in the eastern and the other in the western.

But, within one week from the time these strangers "rubbed elbows," these things have happened:

- No. 1 buys a house from No. 2.
- No. 2 buys a Plank from No. 3.
- No. 3 buys a Piano from No. 4.
- No. 4 buys a Horse from No. 1.
- No. 1 buys a Book case from No. 3.
- No. 2 buys an Automobile from No. 4.

Each man has found three valuable acquaintances--each has taken part in three business transactions--6 want ads. have introduced these four men, each to every other, and negotiated six business deals. Thus--every week in all parts of the city--the want ads. are "bringing people together"--influencing and negotiating business deals of all sorts, from the exchange of a book for a cane, to the exchange of a store in the city for a farm in the country.

3 Lines 3 Times, 25c.